Adams County News

VOLUME 4 GETTYSBURG, PA., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1912. NUMBER 30

MOTHERS WIRE MRS. ROOSVELT

Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers Wire Sorrow over Attempted Murder of Colonel Roosevelt. Final Sessions of Convention.

At the closing session of the thirteenth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers in Emma Lutheran church on Friday evening it was decided to send to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt a telegram expressing the regret of the organization over hearing during the week of the attempt on the life of Colonel Roosevelt, and expressing also their delight at the news of his expected recovery.

Mrs. Roosevelt is a life member of the Congress of Mothers and at the time the organization met in Washington some years ago, during the presidency of Mr. Roosevelt, they were entertained most hospitably in the White House.

At Friday evening's session resolutions were also passed continuing the work of the association and thanking the people of Gettysburg for their entertainment while here. Without exception the delegates were very warm in their appreciation of the manner in which the local Parent-Teachers' Association plays the part of host. The reception on Thursday afternoon was much appreciated and all were delighted with the automobile trip of Friday afternoon including as it did, the principal "points of interest in the battlefield, the college grounds and the major portion of the town.

There are now one hundred individual associations in the state. Of this number twenty-four were formed during the past year. The membership in the state has reached the 20,000 mark. The work of the Gettysburg association was most favorably commented upon a number of times during the stay of the Congress here.

One of the important pieces of legislation with which the state association is interested is the one for the introduction of a bill in the next session of the state legislature providing for the compulsory education having deprived out children. The idea is to keep out of also known as public orphans' homes the children who could be better taken care of at their own homes provided the funds were available to give them such care. It is estimated that such child, now taken care of by the state, costs three dollars a week and that much better results could be secured by giving this to the mothers who could keep her family together.

Other legislation for which the Congress of Mothers is working is the establishment of a playground at every school house to be kept open all the time for the use of the children.

On Friday evening there was two addresses at the closing session of the convention, Mrs. Frederic Schoff, of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers, talking on "The Needs of Childhood in Pennsylvania", and Dr. Anna T. Jeffreys, president of Wilson College on "Adaptation of Education to Changing Social Conditions."

Milton was chosen for the 1913 meeting.

QUARANTINE LIFTED

The quarantine for glanders which had been placed on the stock of H. D. Sheely at the Bushman farm early this month was lifted following a compliance with the requirements of the State Livestock Sanitary Board. One horse which had been sick with this disease was buried in lime, following the method prescribed by the state, and the other horses were subjected to three tests, two of which were made by Dr. D. E. Hoffman, of this place, and the third by Dr. K. F. Meyer, director of the state Veterinary laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania. The remainder of the stock has been pronounced free from the disease.

McKEESPORT BUSINESS MEN HERE

The boosters' train of the McKeesport Chamber of Commerce arrived here early on Thursday. The party numbered about one hundred and after taking dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg they spent several hours on the battlefield. They were met by a committee from the local Board of Trade. Souvenirs advertising McKeesport's industries were distributed. The train was made up of Pullmans and was the first through train to be run by the Western Maryland from Pittsburgh to Baltimore.

ACCIDENTS IN THE COUNTY

Paul Wantz, aged about 20 years, living near Sell's Station, met with a painful accident on Saturday, resulting in the breaking of one of the bones in his right hand. The young man was plucking bundles of fodder from a wagon to the stack, when the fork handle which he was using, and in attempting to hold on to the fork his hand was bent in such condition as to break the bone as well as tear it loose from the muscles. A doctor from Littlestown attended the fracture.

Levi Miller, of Hanover, met with no unusual accident Monday afternoon while at trimbush, resulting in the dislocation of his nose of his right wrist. Observing a five year old boy crossing the street on request Mr. Miller, who is a great friend of children, waited for the youngster and made several attempts to kick the ball over the fence, to the great amusement of the boy, who, very naturally, however, the best of his shoe caught the end of the ball he was thrown to the pavement with considerable force, resulting as above stated.

William Livsberger of Mellerstown, was in a serious condition on Monday while at work at the mashop of the Hopkins Wagon Works, at Hanover. A heavy piece of iron fell and mashed the great toe of his right foot. He was taken to his home and Dr. A. C. Allen called, who dressed the injured member. It will not be able to get work for several weeks.

LITTLESTOWN AROUSED

All roads lead to the evangelistic meetings in the Lutheran church. Rev. Raymond Hemminger, singing sweetheart, of Christ Lutheran church, Austin, is assisting several of the pastors. On Saturday night a wonderful meeting was held and the hall in front of the Order House where about 1,000 people assembled to hear the singing by the large choir and Mr. Hemminger's address. The choir is directed by a dress by Hev. W. Edward Watkins, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Robert E. Smith's meeting for men was held which packed the Lutheran church. Rev. Mr. Smith is a converted bowesman from Mount Joy and is the speaker.

On Sunday night the building was filled to overflowing by men and women and many were turned away unable to get in.

The meetings are to continue this week. The entire community is aroused about the meetings and the audience close early for the meetings, and loud songs are sung and whistled on all sides.

EXCURSION

Monday's excursion to Baltimore via the W. M. from Gettysburg. The following were among the number: Mrs. Ella Bream, Mrs. Carrie Cook, Mrs. Ellis Rosenheim, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Chrisman Jr., Mr. J. L. Batt and daughter, Mrs. Hiner Mogelman, Mrs. Ida Bream, Mrs. Edward Schriver, Mrs. J. D. Lippy, Miss Anna Rice, Mrs. Jacob Bower, Miss Nellie Stonesmar, Miss Mamie Ziegler, Miss Jeanne Stonesmar, Miss Mary Bream, Miss Stonesmar, Miss Edna Stonesmar, Mrs. Martin Mellhenny, Calvin Hamilton, Charles Hamilton, A. D. Sanders, P. M. Minkler, William D Armor, Mr. Cook, Frank Swisher, William Spalding, J. B. Wintemun, Irvin Kelly, Victor Bream, Mr. Bentzel, Frank Schriver The excursion was run by Salem U. S. Church.

WILLIAM H. GROSH

William H. Grosh, well known resident of East Berlin, died at his home at 7:30 Tuesday morning, as the result of a stroke of paralysis received Friday night. He was aged 71 years.

Mr. Grosh was a member of the Oldtimes Trout Company of Gettysburg and was a member of public affairs in East Berlin at various times. He served both as a town councilman and school director.

He leaves his wife and two daughters by a first marriage, Mrs. Jacob Shull, South Gregg, of East Berlin.

Funeral on Thursday from his late home, interment in the cemetery at East Berlin.

APPLE HLOSSOMS AND RASPBERRIES

Mrs. Orville S. Bilby, of route 2 Gettysburg, brought to The News office Wednesday some apple blossoms picked from a tree in the orchard at the Bilby farm. Mrs. John Meinschay, of Brushcreek shop, reports ripe raspberries in her garden.

ECKERT--CLUTZ HOME WEDDING

Pretty Wedding at the Home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Clutz when their Daughter becomes Bride of Mark K. Eckert.

On Wednesday Miss Ruth A. Clut and Mark K Eckert were married a the bride's home on Seminary Ridge.

The pretty wedding march by Harry Link, of York, sang Cadman's "At Dawning", Mr. Link playing the accompaniment. Mrs. J. R. Peters, of Pittsburgh, played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bride and groom went pair from the stairway. Little Miss Mary Peters, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Jessica Link, of York, acted as ring bearer and were followed by Miss Rose Hollinger, of Chambersburg, as the maid of honor, who wore a gown of white silk mull, trimmed with gold lace. Her bouquet was of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The bride followed with her father, who wore a gown of white crepe meteor, made en train, and trimmed with princess lace and pearls. Her veil was held in cap effect, with a pearl tiara. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Mr. Eckert's best man was Dr. Charles Eckert, brother, New Jersey His ushers were Hugh Scott and Phillip B. Bikle, both of Gettysburg.

The parlor in which the wedding took place was prettily arranged with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. Dr. Clutz performed the ceremony and was assisted by Rev. Henry Austeet, of Washington. The double ring service was used. The wedding marches were also played by Mrs Peters after the ceremony a musical reception was held, followed by the wedding supper. The dining room was decorated with cosmos and hydrangeas.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Eckert left on their wedding trip. The bride's gown was one of blue broadcloth, with hat to match. The grooms was a diamond and pearl ring, a present from the maid of honor. He was a good workman with a pearl pendant; to her ring bearers, gold bracelets; to Harry Link, a bonded opera bag and to Mrs. Peters, a tortoise and gold brooch. To the ushers the groom was a desk clock, and to his best man a watch.

Among the out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Clotz, of Sandusa, Ohio; Frank Clutz and Miss Nellie Hollinger, of Chambersburg; Dr. A. Stonesmar, of Mount Joy; Mrs. Clutz's mom, of Baltimore; L. D. Mencoch, of Hanover; Mrs. Bikle, of Nanty-Glo, Idaho. Mrs Elwood Porter, of Allenhurst, New Jersey; Mrs. John Dickinson, of Newburgh Byron; Mrs. Elmer Kentz, of Germantown, Ohio and Mrs. Hollinger and daughter, of Washington; Miss Mary Trump and Miss Bess Trump, of Martinsburg, W. Va.

EGGS AND BUTTER BY MAIL

The easiest and cheapest way to get fresh country eggs and butter delivered promptly is by parcel post direct from some rural route farmer and have them sent to you under the new parcel post. But it is not only necessary to know how to pack it well under the new parcels post. If you do not know how to pack it properly in pair of chickens, or anything else, this weighs no more than eleven pounds, it may go back to you.

A local example of the need of parcels post was shown here last week, when the college authorities sent a package of examination papers to Harvard University, England for less than one third the cost of sending the same by mail to or from Philadelphia, a miles away. The rate to England is one 24 cents and Oakland 72 cents.

The examination papers in question were sent from the registrar of Wilson College who are competing in the Rhodes scholarship tests.

PROPERTY SOLD

Deputy Sheriff C. H. Brickerhoff has sold his property in Tyrone township to G. K. Walker for $650. His home in Gettysburg has sold, Mrs. Hunk and Fochman, her property on Seminary ridge, to Mrs. and Mrs. Wm. street to Charles Summers.

GETTYSBURG BOY HELD AS ROBBER

Robert Miller is Held in $15HO Bail. Charged with Robbing Elderly Widow. Says he is Willing to Confess.

Mrs. Charles M. Schwarz, a wealthy widow who also lost heavily that she was fifty-nine, but who does not look more than forty five, appeared in the New Rochelle Police Court at New York, Monday, before Justice Samuel S. Aschberne to tell how she had been robbed of a diamond brooch, a purse and other articles, the total value involved in all at $1,500.

While she testified story, Robert Miller, pick cheeked and boardine who said he was twenty-one, that he lived at No. 1708 Broadway and that he had a young wife, from whom he was separated, and a baby princess lunch, his head buried in his hands and sobbing.

Beside young Miller on John Wilson, thirty-two a mechanical engineer, who said he lived Somerville, N. J. Forty-seventh street, Manhattan Miller was dressed in the height of fashion. C. L. Bears a lawyer of No 42 Broadway, sat by the prisoner and Wilmer's interests.

Mrs. Schwarz said she lived at No 11 Church street, New Rochelle. She told how she and young Miller had come to Gettysburg, where she was to collect some rents on Wednesday morning, and was held up.

"What have you to say?" asked the Justice of Miller.

"Nothing," Muttered the boy. "I want to tell all!"

Miller had first come to New York from Gettysburg, and had worked for Frederick Stonesmar, a florist and market at the cigar counter in the Hotel Belmont.

And t w he met the wealthy widow almost three times his age he did not know. It was not until after the assault that he learned she was a widow.

Three weeks ago t met Wilmer. "I said "We become good friends and I told him I was married but had not met a few dollars. Then I told him of my affair with Mrs. Schwarz. He said it would be easy to rob her some night, and we went into the job."

The arrest of Wilmer followed at the Hotel Somerville, where young Miller was held in $1,500 bail on a charge of robbery. He was arraigned and Wilmer in the same amount charged with receiving stolen goods.

STATE INSPECTION

During this week officers of the state department of health will make a thorough inspection of the public school houses in 6.6 townships throughout the county, which, while declined medical inspection. Commissioner of Health Dixon has ordered that the work be carried out through the sanitary conditions surrounding the schools, in order to every second close township to the state.

Dr. Dixon urges the most important point, is to be given attention—if from a well, its location and the possibility of contamination from surface drainage or adjacent cesspools, or privies, must be noted.

ASSAULT CHARGE WITHDRAWN

Charles Brown was given a hearing before Squire Harnish on Tuesday afternoon in the matter of the out of the campus in the Third Ward on Saturday night. Following the hearing the assault was withdrawn and Brown landed guilty to disorderly conduct and was assessed the costs amounting to thirty days or a fined $5.00 and costs. Brown was taken back to jail pending the arrival of the fund necessary to pay the fine and costs which totaled about $11.00.

FUNERAL NOTICE

The funeral services of John A. Donaldson were held at his late home, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. W. K. Fleck, officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery, Gettysburg.

FUNERAL

The funeral services of John A. Donaldson were held at his late home, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. W. K. Fleck, officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery, Gettysburg.

MISSED BULL MOOSE

Hon. W. Howard Dicks, of New Oxford, associate judge of Adams County, returned last week from a three weeks hunting trip in the province of Quebec, Canada, localities to the trip to which Capt. Adam Dunkel, in New Brunswick.

Judge Dicks is a member of the Madawaska Fishing and Game Club, of Canada, and the main object of the sportsmen this year was to shoot a bull —moose, but it was too late in the season as none were seen. They secured, however, a large number of deerskins and one almost 10 —now, but it is against the law to shoot them.

The gaveling party who left the hunting grounds before Judge Dicks arrived had the good fortune to get a large moose, which weighed 1,000 pounds and measured 60 inches from tip to tip of antlers.

The Madawaska Club has leased from the Canadian government a tract of land of sixty miles, for which it pays a year, and none but the members is allowed the privilege of hunting on those grounds, where all kinds of game abound.

WESTERN TRAINS ON W. M.

Announcement is made that the Western Maryland Railway company will inaugurate through passenger train service between Baltimore and Cumberland on the first Sunday of this month. Fully equipped with modern cars, the first train for the Monday will leave Baltimore Union at the morning of the twenty—seventh, at 8 o'clock, and will arrive in Cumberland at 7:30 o'clock that evening.

Following the action of the Association of the through passenger service between the two cities will be made only few days ago by General Manager Shepherd and General Passenger Agent Fairley of the Pan—handle Railway. Both officials of the Pittsburgh to confer with officials of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad. At this conference it was decided to put the first train on the new service as day mentioned. For the time being there will be a train each way, but the service will be increased as soon as passenger business becomes heavier. The train will start from the east side of the burgh as night, arriving in Baltimore at the most convenient hour.

ATHLETIC STARS AT HANOVER

Local baseball fans will have an opportunity of seeing a trio of Philadelphia Athletic baseball stars in the day's game between Hanover and Shrewsbury at Hanover. Eddie Plank is sure to be there and he expects to see Connie Mack, Jack Barry, Plank and Eddie Collins, along to help make the game interesting. The Athletics leave Saturday 9:45 p. m. for Baltimore, and Plank believes he can induce his friends to make a short side trip and play Thursday. It is understood that the Philadelphia team will have several major leaguers in their line—up, as some of their positions will be unable to go on the trip, and then again some of the weak positions will be strengthened so that the contest seem equal. The game will start at 2:45 p. m.

MYERS GOES WITH ATHLETICS

"Jim" Myers, the York Spring pitcher, went to Philadelphia on Tuesday and after a visit to Shibe Park signed up for next season with the Athletics. Myers will report to Connie Mack's camp at Mack went who came to York Springs on Monday for him. Arrangements for Myers' release were layed out to the Athletic stronghold where Ira Thomas is boss of York Springs buy through a rigorous test of baseball. Manager Mack, Eddie Plank and Thomas seemed well pleased with the big fellow and the former then signed up Myers to report to camp next season. Myers will leave with the Athletics for Jacksonville next spring.

MRS. CAROLINE NOEL

Mrs. Caroline Noel died on Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, following an illness of several weeks from old age. She was aged 76 years. Funeral was held Thursday afternoon. Services at the Abolitionist at 2 o'clock. Burial will be taken to Pittsburgh for interment. She is survived by one son, C. D. Noel, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

MISS SADE J. BLACK

Miss Sadie J. Black, formerly of this county, died suddenly at East Cobb, town, on October 17. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Isaac Stockinger, of the same place.

Miss Mildred Stouffer has returned to her home in Walkersville Md., after a brief visit with Miss Belle Weaver at her home on Baltimore street.

WANT LESS POLES ON TOWN STREETS

Town Council Insists that Companies Operating in Gettysburg Must Combine to Reduce Number of Poles on Streets.

That the number of poles on the streets of Gettysburg must be reduced through the co-operation of the telephone companies and the Gettysburg Light Company was the sentiment of the town council at a special meeting on Wednesday evening.

The meeting was held in response to a request of R. S. Garrison, of the Bell Telephone Company who appeared before the council to ask for permission to place twenty three new poles, to ask for rights-of-way some others and to confer with council regarding the removal of the poles from the roadway on the Square to the alley. The last matter was the subject for considerable discussion by the town council.

Mr. Garrison stated that the bringing of the gang of men to Gettysburg in question and their inability to do any work resulted in a loss of about $10 to the company, and that they did not desire to repeat the experience.Mr. Garrison, chairman of the highway committee, stated that, with regard to the poles on the square, that the reasons he desired consentmanu setbac so that he would not have to bear the brunt of public sentiment should the proposed work of the Bell Company meet with the disapproval of the people of town.

The cofinission under which the company is working allows them, it is said, to place as many poles as necessary for carrying on consumer their business, the poles to be placed where the council may direct, the committee. Mr. Garrison stated that he was not acquainted personally with from council but that he did not act or courtesy and because Mr. Coderi requested that the poles should be placed where the company's exchange on the opposite side of the street. This will do away with the heavy cable over the roadway.

Mr. Butt stated that he thought the Bell company should first secure the business before placing new poles to accommodate it and with the assumption of the same. Under the underground conduit the wiresin matter was left over to a regular meeting on Tuesday November 5.

TRAMP KILLED ON RAILROAD

Michael Sullivan Meets Death on Western Maryland below New Oxford. Two Fellow Tramps Held as Witnesses for Hearing.

Michael Sullivan, a "hobo," was was found dead with his skull crushed along the W. M. R. R., near Bittinger early Friday morning.

It is supposed the man came to his death by being struck by a train while in an intoxicated condition.

Upon the discovery of the body on Friday morning Justice of the Peace H. H. Straley, of New Oxford, was notified, and when he reached the scene of the tragedy, empaneled the following jurymen: Bittinger, Frank Wernick, Leo Stumbaugh, Frank Lines and Harry Warner. After deliberating for some time, and being unable to agree on a verdict, they adjourned to meet this week.

The man was between 50 and 60 years of age and there was nothing found on his person to indicate where he was from. But a cast was found in his pocket.

The body was buried on Saturday in the cemetery at the County Home.

JAMES BROWN

James Brown died at his home in Hanover at 4 o'clock Friday morning from heart trouble, being in failing health for the past year. He was aged 70 years, 8 months and 6 days.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, of Adams County, and was of Irish descent. His father was the first to come to America from the north of Ireland during the war of 1812. He was born and lived practically all his life in this section, being well known and greatly esteemed by all his acquaintances.

Mr. Brown was married in 1860 to Miss Caletta Zinn, daughter of the late Christian Zinn, of near New Oxford. In this they were married by the late Carlisle Tyke, whom both lived up until the death of Mr. Brown, in August, 1898. Mr. Brown was a blacksmith by trade, having spent 62 years at the anvil.

He is survived by a brother, Solomon Brown, and one sister, Mrs. John Moss, both of New Oxford. Also by two children, George C. Brown, and Miss Carrie C. Brown, at home.

Funeral Monday, Oct. 31, services at his late home at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in the New Oxford cemetery. Rev. S. P. Mauger, of Grace Reformed church, Hanover, officiating.

SEVEN MEDALS

At the recent State Sunday School convention in Philadelphia 976 handsome bronze medals were awarded to people who had been officers or teachers in Sunday Schools for fifty years or more. The medals were given through the generosity of John Wanamaker and H. J. Heinz. Of the 976 medals three came to Gettysburg, Mr. and Mrs. George Spangler and also Miss Amelia Danner receiving the tokens of appreciation for faithful service. Thirty one years of Mr. Spangler's Sunday School work he devoted to attendance with but one of exception. dent. In addition to the medals which came to Gettysburg the following Adams County people also received medals: Rev. L. M. Gardner, York Springs; Joseph Krumbine, H. W. Forney, William Wolfe, Miss E. E. Shiver, William Unger, all of Littlestown.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

Frank Lawrence, manager of the Centennial cigar factory, at Mt. Rock, met with a runaway accident in Mc Sherrystown on Friday. The horse caught the line and became unmanageable, starting down Main street on a dead run. When just the Eagle hotel was vacant struck a telephone pole, throwing the driver out of the wagon and rendering him unconscious for a short while. He was taken to the office A. C. Disc, who gave him the necessary medical attention, after which he proceeded home. The shafts of the wagon were broken and the harness torn. No injury was done to the horse which was caught shortly afterward on Main street.

HAS EYE REMOVED

Earl H. Culp has returned from Philadelphia where he had his right eye removed. Mr. Culp sustained an injury to the eye some years ago and it has always given him trouble. Recent months ago he underwent an operation which was partially successful but failed to restore the sight of the eye and considerable pain was caused later on. It was finally decided best to remove it to prevent possible trouble for the other eye.

WON ANOTHER

Miller and Brothers' brown gelding of New Oxford won first money in a 2:40 class race at Raleigh, N. C. Thursday. The horse was driven by the veteran, A. H. Tyson, of Wilmington, Del.

ONE YEAR FOR FINKENBINDER

D. Rolla Finkenbinder Pleads Guilty in Adams County Court to Charge of Bigamy. Is Given Penitentiary Sentence.

D Rolla Finkenbinder on Monday pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in Adams County Court and was sentenced by Judge Swope to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern Prison for a period of not less than one year or not more than two years. Evidence was presented after hearing the statements by the defendant and his attorneys.

Judge Swope, in imposing sentence, told the prisoner that his pamphlet bail wrighed against him heavily in the imposing of sentence. As has been stated in these columns in former accounts of the case, Finkenbinder claimed that he thought a divorce had been granted from his first wife, and the Court admitted that this could be true but called to account the failure of the defendant to appear for trial, allowing his case to lapse into Joseph Thomas, he stand for $600 cash bail, which was later returned upon Finkenbinder's being brought back to jail.

Finkenbinder claimed that the father wished him to go away in order that the family matter to be settled in the trial and alleged that he was furnished by the father money to bail and that he was sent 6th afterward. Thomas Baldwin and Edward A. Weaver Esq., Finkenbinder pointed out letters and epigrams from his wife to show that they knew of his whereabouts

J. Donald Swope Esq. explained the letters by saying that he represented the Thomases as he mixed the letters were sent to learn the man's whereabouts and facilitate his recapture. Mr. Swope denied that he used them himself and Mr. Finkenbinder—this the second wife—admitted.

District Attorney Wible represented the Commonwealth and urged a severe sentence.

SURPRISE PARTY

A very pleasant surprise party was given Peter Reigle and family at the home at Mummasburg on Thursday evening.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs Reigle, Stella Reigle, Mary Reigle, Ruth Reigle, Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobs, Alverne Jacobs, Herbert Shull, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allison, Beulah Allison, Clyde Allison, Viola Allison, Mr. and Mrs. John Bream, Grayson Bleacher, Cnelda Bleacher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glosser, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Glosser, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. VanDyke, Chair VanDyke, Hazel VanDyke, Martha VanDyke, John Flack, Blanche Thomas, Rudolph Thomas, Mrs. Thomas, Carl Flack, Harry Carey, Calvin Carey, Paul Carey, Miles Carey, Violet Carey, Isaac Hite, Clarence Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Crum, John Glosser, Jess Lentzenmus, Annie Lentzenmus, Mrs. Verona Marsh, Elmer Miller, Foster Lilead, Mary Lilead, John Lilead, and the medicine men of the latter tribe. Some of the latter believe in fact then a missionary brings the news of Bible truths and tells them of having gained the chief's good will, precedent to the people his message of light.

The world is recently been shorted as to the revelation of atrocities in the Congo region. The Central African exhibit at "The World in Baltimore" showing native industries, idols and skull-bowls, and the home of native artist and natives, will give Americans an intimate knowledge of the conditions under which these atrocities are practiced.

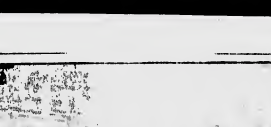
Two Indian goddess, Kali, to whom many temples have been erected in India, and who wears a necklace of human skulls, is one of the unique features of "The World in Baltimore," October 25th to November 30th.

An old-fashioned country dinner will be shown at "The World in Baltimore," October 29 to November 30.

A STRIKING feature of "The World in Baltimore" is the collection of Indian tallet gems from Alaska

The [illegible] of the tropical bodies of [illegible] by some peculiar color [illegible] the same form as the icy [illegible]. Both will be at "The World in Baltimore."

[illegible] of Japan every [illegible] world in Baltimore."



PROCESSION TO KALI TEMPLE, EAST (INDIA) EPISODE, PAGEANT OF DARKNESS AND LIGHT.

FOUR QUARTERS OF EARTH ARE TO MEET

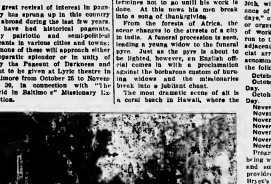
Pageant of Darkness and Light, at "The World in Baltimore," Will Surpass in Excellence All Those of the Past.

A great revival of interest in pageantry has sprung up in this country and abroad during the last few years. We have had historical pageants, many patriotic and semi-political pageants in various cities and towns; but none of these will approach either in operatic splendor or in unity of story the Pageant of Darkness and Light to be given at the Lyric theatre in Baltimore from October 25 to November 30, in connection with "The World in Baltimore" Missionary Exposition.

The scene shifts to Africa, at a spot in Central Uganda, the famous missionary explorer, is resting from his journeyings. Here Stanley, who has been searching for him, finds him last in thought and begs him to return to England, but Livingstone determines not to go until his work is done. At this news his men break into a song of thanksgiving.

From the forests of Africa, the scene changes to the streets of a city in India. A funeral procession is seen, leading a young widow to the funeral pyre. Just as the pyre is about to be lighted, however, an English official comes in with a proclamation against the barbarous custom of burning widows and the missionaries bring into a jubilant chant.

The most dramatic scene of all is a coral beach in Hawaii, where the



KALI TEMPLE, INDIA SCENE, "THE WORLD IN BALTIMORE."

It is no mere sitting of scenes, passed like a bewildering panorama before the spectators, while the orchestra plays snatches of Beethoven, Grieg and Bedlock. The whole is built around a set motive, and drives its scenes from incidents of missionary history. The excellent libretto by John Cranahan, although short, contains some lyrics of great rythmic beauty.

The first scene is an Indian camp in the north-west. The chief of the tribe and his wife are in distress over the loss of their little daughter, who has strayed away. A band of Esquimaux come to the camp with the latter and the medicine men of the latter tribe. Some of the latter believe in fact then a missionary brings the news of Bible truths and tells them of having gained the chief's good will, precedent to the people his message of light.

TEA HOUSE IN JAPAN SCENE, "THE WORLD IN BALTIMORE."

native natives are gathered for a wedding. In the background the volcano Kilauea belches forth fire, and the God does Pele approaches and demands the bridegroom and a child play ing in the flowers close by he throws into the volcano as a sacrifice to the angry goddess. As he is about to lead them down, Queen Kapiolani bids defiance to the goddess. She taunts Pele insultingly, but there is no appearing wrath from the center of fire, and the power of the goddess is overthrown.

The music for these episodes was written by Hamish MacCunn. It is especially full of wild, barbaric dances and dirges. There are gloomy Indian chants and bloodthirsty war songs, missionary choruses of jubilee and hymns of praise, barbaric incantations of medicine men and native priests, and many scores of every description.

SPECIAL DAYS AT EXPOSITION

Large Number of Functions to Mark World in Baltimore.

"The World in Baltimore" Missionary Exposition, to be held in Baltimore from October 25th to November 30th, will be marked by the observance of a large number of "special days," or days devoted to some town or organization or church or branch of work. Many excursions will be run to take people to Baltimore from adjacent territory, and of course special arrangements will be made to accommodate the visitors. Thus far the following days have been announced:

October 28.—Opening Day.
October 30.—German Evangelical Day.
October 31.—Methodist Day.
November 4.—Masonic Day.
November 7.—Reformed Church
November 12.—Presbyterian Day.
November 13.—Washington Day.
November 14.—Lutheran Day.
November 18.—Baptist Day.
November 19.—Episcopal Day.

Programs for these special days are being worked over with greatest care, and something distinctive is being provided for each one. Ambassador Bryce's address will be a feature of the Opening Day, when Gov. Golds-borough, and Bishops Cranston and Murray will also speak. Other days will be arranged for before the opening of the Exposition.

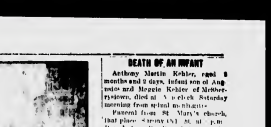
GORGEOUS NEW SCENERY.

Much of the scenery for "The World in Baltimore," to be given October 25 to November 30, has been newly painted for the Baltimore Exposition, and all the rest has been retouched. Some of it has been done by artists in New York artists, and the result is a really gorgeous setting for the great pageant.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE TO MAKE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS

An announcement of greatest interest is that Right Honorable James Bryce, the British Ambassador to the United States, has accepted the invitation to deliver the principal address at the opening function of the Missionary Exposition, "The World in Baltimore," the afternoon of October 25th, in the Lyric theatre.



Dispensary Scene, "The World in Baltimore."

Among the other speakers for the day will be Bishop E. Earle Cranston, of the Methodist church; Bishop Murray, of the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland, and Governor Goldsborough.

A unusual mission in actual operation will be one of the many interesting features at "The World in Baltimore.

DEATH OF AN INFANT

Anthony Martin Kohler, aged 8 months and 4 days, infant son of Augustus and Reggie Kohler of Mechanicstown, died at 7 o'clock Saturday morning from spinal meningitis.

Funeral from St. Mary's church, that place Tuesday at 10 a. m. Rev. L. Jay Heller officiating. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

LEAVES LITTLESTOWN

Rev. H. A. League, former rector of St Aloysius Catholic Church, at Littlestown, has left but his new home in Philadelphia.

The Right Light
The Bright Light
No odor No soot
Triple refined Pennsylvania coals only. The best for family use.
Family Favorite Oil
Free—200 page book about oil
WAVERLY OIL WORKS CO.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Chamberlain Building

Friday Nov. 1st, 1912
I will have a carload of Ohio and Kentucky horses by Friday the 1st.
H. W. PARR,
Hanover, Pa
Advertisement

Will receive on Friday of each week
Two Carloads
of Horse and Mule Colts consisting of Sucklings and Yearlings
Broke Horses and Mules on hand at all times.
H. A. SMITH,
Hanover, Pa.
Advertisement.

BONES WANTED
Highest Prices
Hafleigh & Co.
Philadelphia

ASK ANY HORSE
Eureka Harness Oil
Mica Axle Grease
Sold by dealers everywhere
The Atlantic Refining Company
Advertisement.

J. Donald Swope
Attorney-at-Law
All legal business will receive prompt attention and careful attention.
Every Wednesday afternoon at office of W. K. Kapp, Biglerville.
Advertisement.

J. L. Williams
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Gettysburg, Pa.
Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office in First National Bank Building (Annex Square Entrance)

C. S. DUNCAN
Attorney at Law
32 Baltimore Street
Advertisement.

THIRD WARD HAS LIVELY RUMPUS

Two Negro Laborers in Altercation Adam Myers Acts as Peace Maker and is Attacked but Fells his Man.

Another Third Ward fracas in which a number of colored citizens were involved occurred late Monday afternoon and caused general excitement until the police arrived on the scene and made arrests. The chief participants were Charles Brown and Adam Walker, laborers employed on the state highway between Galtpurley and New Oxford, and Adam Myers.

Walker has been accustomed to quit at the home of Cyrus Valentine on Long Lane and on Monday afternoon Brown went there and when he refused entrance, got in through a rear window. He was soon put out and met Walker who had been down town on an errand.

Brown got into an argument with Walker and Adam Myers sought to get in peacemaker after Brown had drawn a knife and cut Walker several times on the hand. He then started at Myers, it is said, but Adam dealt him a left swing blow across the head with a pick handle.

Brown beat a retreat and was picked up at the corner of Mt. Pleasant and High streets where he informed Chief Sheeler that he had been shot. Examination of his person however showed that this was not the case.

AUTOMOBILE ROAD RACE

An auto carnival road race will be run from Emmitsburg to Frederick on the afternoon of Friday, October 1, under the auspices of the Frederick News and the Emmitsburg Chronicle. The drivers of the cars have been given the right to use the pikes at a rate of speed exceeding the present limit of 25 miles an hour during the time of the race.

Col. E. A. Boughmo, who is the marshal of the day, has asked the Washington Saturday to look after cars to enter the race. He will return home today. Ladies' automobile and a large number of factories and from the regular already entered. It is said that there will be great rivalry between the different makes.

There will be three prizes given, the first being a handsome silver loving cup worth $50. This will insure keen competition, and it is planned to make the affair an annual one, but similar events will be had every year. J. Elmer Long, Emmitsburg, Md., Engineer, is one of the entrants.

MRS. JOHN RIFFLE

Mrs. John Riffle died at her home in Littlestown on the early hour Monday morning, after a lingering illness from stomach trouble.

Mrs Riffle was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs Gerrick, who came to America from Germany many years ago. She was in her fifty-ninth year, survived by two sons, George W. and Milton Riffle, of Littlestown; and six daughters, Mrs. Anne Palmer and Mrs. Charles Sisk, of Littlestown; Mrs. William Gossard, of Frederick, Md.; Miss Lillie Riffle, at home; Mrs Howard Yost and Mrs John H. Schwartz, of Hanover. She is also survived by two brothers, Andrew and John Gerrick, of Littlestown, and two sisters, Mrs. Lydia Unger and Mrs. Kate Shamberger, both living in Eastland, Indiana.

She was a member of Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, where the funeral services were held and interment made on Wednesday, Oct 2d, at 11 a. m., Rev. Dr. F. T. Lindaman officiating.

SIMON HICKLET

Simon Hicklety formerly of Adams county, died at 11:45 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, at his home, a short distance west of Waynesboro, aged 72 years and 11 days. Mr. Hicklety was born in Maryland, just across the state line. He was one of twelve children born to Daniel and Elizabeth (Zottle) Hicklety, natives of Adams County. He father was a soldier in the war of 1812.

When a young man Simon Hicklety, who had, as a boy attended the schools of his vicinity, engaged in farming along the Mason and Dixon line Later he purchased the Hicklety farm on the turnpike, east of Waynesboro, and, after some years spent there, bought the farm of his brother, Daniel W. Hicklety, at Gettysburg. Eight years ago he moved to Franklin County and purchased a farm west of Waynesboro where he lived until his death.

NEW BOOK ISSUED

Glen & Co. of Boston, have just published the Teacher's Edition of Granville's Piano and Spherical Trigonometry. Dr. H. B. Nixon, of Gettysburg College, has had charge of the issuing of this volume having solved the problems, drawn the figures and read the proof. This volume is not excelled by any work yet published of like nature and for this the greatest credit is due to Dr. Nixon.

PLAN FUN FOR FARMERS' DAY

Numerous Contests, Including Pie Eating, Racing, Pole Climbing and Other Events Premium for Each Needed Family.

With the long list of premiums announced for those who wish to make display of their products next Saturday the management of Farmers' Day is hard at work on the complete prizefighting speedy forms of entertainment for the day. The amusement event of nine holes have been completed and will be within a day or two.

A number of people have now started to clear plans for various contests. The Fair Association announces a list of $1.00 and a second prize of seventy five cents in the following contests to be held in front of the City Hotel on the afternoon of Farmers' Day. W. Stallsmith will give a $5.00 prize with a three legged race. Similar awards will be made for a greased pole climb and several other events to be announced later.

The premiums are taking a lively interest in getting ready their exhibits and the fact that the county grange is carrying will be shown here on Farmers' Day. But the chief interest is centered and they are hunting for the pot of Mr. Money, which secure the prizes that look seemingly attractive to them.

Many every section of the county comes the news that the time is meeting with great success and tentative calls are frequent, numerous parties promise to have certain conditions, whether or not they get the prize for exhibits and so on.

The grange publicity is the list of premiums already offered in time of a number of farmers' wives and the committee, who will give it to the person bringing in from the country the largest family of children.

An error was made in announcement of the prize for the youngest baby. It will give a fine chesty gold hand ring to the boy or girl who is declared, instead of a cash prize of $2.00 as formerly published.

$200 INJURED

"Dick" Murray, a hobo, was seriously injured by falling from a box car on the Western Maryland railroad near Bittinger, Saturday night.

He was brought to Gettysburg with two of 7 other hobos during the evening and about 10 o'clock went to the lime kiln to warm himself. He was found stumbled up the ladder leading to the burning timber, he had fallen and fell in the bottom, striking on brick paving, rendering him unconscious. He was picked up unconscious and carried to the home of Dr. C. G. Miller, who was in the neighborhood Sunday morning, was summoned to Gettysburg. Dr. Miller found the injured that he have was fractured and that he was suffering with a injured brain. On Sunday evening he was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Murray, who is 47 years old, hails from New England, and states that he has been a fireman on a freight and Boston baseball team years ago before the "big glove" was used by the backstops.

FAMILY REUNION

A very successful family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoffman, Arendtsville on last Sunday. When all of their children were present as all the grandchildren with the exception of Miss Ruth Hoffman, who was absent on account of illness. The day; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hoffman and son, Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. John Herring, and two sons of Lyndonville, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. William Lady, John Bittinger; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. David Myers and daughter, Minnie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoffman and daughter, Mrs. William Hankey and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Deal Orner.

JOHN A. DONALDSON

John A. Donaldson died at his home in Hamiltonian township about 12 o'clock Monday night after a long illness. He was 74 years 11 months and 8 days. He was stricken white at the dinner table and died before medical assistance could come.

He is survived by his wife who was Miss Margaret Mickley; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Hoffman, near Chanceford; Ernest at home; Clarence and Harry in the West. He is also survived by one brother, William Donaldson, near Hamiltonban township, and three sisters, Mrs. Jacob Hoffman, near Fairfield; Mrs. George Minter, of Arendtsville, and Mrs. Margaret Donaldson, of Hamiltonban township.

BURNED TICKET OFFICE

At an early hour on Tuesday the newly erected ticket booth on Nixa Field was burned to the ground by parties who had first soaked the building with oil. People who passed by the place a short time before the blaze was discovered detected the odor of the oil. There is no clue to the guilty parties and it is not known whether they are students or town boys.

FAVORITE FICTION.
"How I Do Hate the Bother of Preparing for a Trip to Europe!"
"Yes, John — I Have Got to Go and Never Mind the Fuss and Party, and It's Awfully Tiz-ome."
"I Wanted to Give Our Head Waiter a Souvenir Tip, but He Looked so Swell I Didn't Dare Offer It."
"Yes, I think That We Thoroughly Thank You Ever so Much, Mrs. Chesterley, for Reuben's Ar."
"Your Servant, I'm Perfectly Lovely, Dr. Baxter, but I Thought It Was a Little Too Short."
"At Your Age, My Son, I Realized the Importance of an Education Much More Than You Do."
He Didn't Like Either.
"Jack, do you mind go back home instantly."
"Why?"
"Because I've left my purse for a couple of days in the country without you worrying."
"What we have come off and left the cat and the parrot with nothing to eat?"
"Don't let that bother you. Maybe the cat will eat the parrot."
MUST BE.

She—I wonder what there is about the accordion that makes one so sentimental to some.
He—The bathing girl, I guess.

Undecideles.
Sent The Bo
And so the poet
Thought
That made the host.
Moderated Assumption.
"When you are running for an office," said the student in politics, "you are supposed to assume that you are going to succeed, aren't you?"
"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "it is becoming customary to be satisfied with contesting people that, whatever the result may be, they are nothing compared to those of the other fellow.
Easy Exercise.
"You have a fine department in your paper," I suppose?" asked the visitor at the editor.
"Oh, yes," replied the proud editor.
"And is the department keen hewn?"
"Dearie me, no! What do you have four parades a year?"
Met Her Specialty.
Pa Parkinson—Ma, after going through college you can't figure how you've got to be a fool, after all, can you?
Ma Parkinson—Pape, if I knew the roof leaked I would have studied architecture instead of china painting.—Satire.
That's Different.
"It's downright cruel to be hunting day after day and not get anything."
"Well, I don't know; with sporting blood in him; he doesn't care whether he gets anything or not."
"But I'm hunting for work."
Best Wishes.
"And so you have sent Jamie off to school?"
"Yes. And he is doing so nicely. He is perfectly at home in algebra."
"Well, I hope it's a good moral home."—Satire.
DOORSTEP SUBSCRIBERS.

Quick—Don't you subscribe for a newspaper?
Slick—Well, no. You see some of the boys around here get a paper almost all summer, and we don't find it necessary to subscribe.

Unless It's Carried.
"Pick, tick," says the clock,
But fast or slow,
Around the clock
It can go no.

Love's Labor Lost.
Boy With Gerush—Gee! What d'ye think! I sneaked over an' surveied under that tent, sposin' it was a circus, an' when I got in I found it was a camp meetin'—Puck.

NOTES from MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Ostt

All animals need salt.

The hog is a debt payer.

Every farm should have a silo.

A silo built of concrete will preserve silage well.

Milk and corn meal makes a fine fattening feed for fowls.

A good time to cull out inferior birds is when the market is up.

The finer the soil, the better the vegetables, both in quantity and quality.

Feed the soil if you would have the soil feed you, applies forcibly to worn out lands.

Grape vines require frequent shallow cultivation throughout the entire season.

In setting an orchard stick to the proven varieties. Let some one else do the experimenting.

The thermometer must be used as well as the dairy during the summer as during the winter.

At this time of the year care should be exercised in housing the pullets that are to be the winter layers.

In breaking a colt, remember that it is an animal of nerve force and rub him by causing him to balk.

Bran is a very good feed for cows. It is light, laxative and has a fair general matter, especially phosphorus.

With fruiting orchards mineral fertilizers are not generally necessary, as excess of nitrogen should be avoided.

Annual flowers can be buried alive by watering them with a tablespoonful each of nitrate of soda to a pailful of water.

Heroic pruning measures are needed to bring many old trees into bearing. Much is read and all be done the first year.

The theory that cows can overfeed only the yeast found in cows, however, and so many a cook has been retarded by under feeding.

The earlier in the season after the June crop that thinning can be done, the better it will be for the tree and remaining apples.

The most humane method of destroying a cow is to do the work with a little caustic potash when the horns are just commencing to grow.

When the strawberries are off the vines remove the mulch and cultivate thoroughly. This will kill the weeds and put the soil in fine condition.

Some folks have their houses so that they can open them up all around the foundation, raise the floor a foot and let the air circulate everywhere.

From early spring until August sow a few seeds of some flower every two weeks or so, and thus try to produce a continuous supply of good blooms.

Throw open the windows every night, but tack some wire-screened cloth of some kind over them to keep out things that have no business in the house.

Alfalfa clover is a perennial and can be grown on ground that is too low and moist for the medium red or timothy. It is grown equally well on high ground.

Men who are inexperienced in alfalfa growing would have figured on their attention the important lesson that it grows on the surface of the soil and leaves them on seed soon as possible.

When buying pedigreed stock the wise buyer will carefully the pedigree of the man who bred the animal as carefully as the animal itself. A good reputation is a valuable asset when selling registered animals.

From 15 to 18 pounds of hay should be given a horse during the day. This is equivalent to five or six pounds to a meal. But it is not well to give so much at noon or morning, as they have not the time to eat it, and going to work right away prevents proper time for digestion.

DAINTY TABLE FAVORS

LITT E KNICKNACKS FOR THE FORTHCOMING ERIDE.

Ideas All More or Less Good, May Be Taken From the Displays in the Shop Windows—Some Novelties in Pure White.

The term given to forthcoming brides are geared by the most charming devices. Many of these favors are brought at the high class confectioneers, where they are to be found in a more novel and elegant form than elsewhere, as one lady friend has also above some pretty things for this purpose, as well as the usual fancy and garment stores. Here and there, too, one sees a tea table embellished with homemade knickknacks of tremendous cleverness, some of these imitating the choice silver, and all testifying to the family's own taste and intelligence.

As the bride's newest bouquet is to be pyramid form, little cornered knots are made in the shape of artificial flowers. Various tiny pieces of ribbon together, one pink bude, or red rose, or yellow one, and a spray of a several strades of blue, pansies in all colors. The ribbon should be used with these, fragile bits of asparagus fern and other trailing leaves and small leaves. When the little bouquet is made up in the required shape, it is inclosed in a horn of lace, edged paper and tied with ribbon. All of the bowers used are very cheap just now, and for the paper holders, when the pretty things are made at home, many girls buy the packages of round lace edged paper used upon cake and Lemon dishes and sold at the ten-cent store. If there are to be many guests at the wedding breakfast three for them are made up in the same manner. The number of guests need to be cut the required size and shape for each person. Many of these are now and businesswires are permissible for any sweet tea, dinner or luncheon.

The novelties strictly for bridal use are always in pure white. There are tiny dolls dressed as brides, wedding trunks, slippers, little satin bags containing rice or confetti, wedding bells, we automobiles holding flowers or candy, etc. Occasionally a piece of the block grisp, with the traditional white decorations is to be found. This is very gathering, and one such little gentleman would be quite sufficient for the decorations of the table. Painted figures of the bridegroom and bride, of the bride, bridesmaids and blackcoated men all over are found in the little rest at the back of the card. The bride's cake is made into many lovely body in the family has a gift for water color painting, and when they are printed very delicately and neatly.

Mop caps and aprons made of crêpe de chine are very pretty indeed, but as the girls always don these fashionable things with the greatest pleasure should be very small, but they may be heart shaped or round, and trimmed about with ruffles of the same or lace paper. They are also to be had for books or flower wreath, or be simply made of white paper with a little of paper in a contrasting color. If the bookcase is given to the bride her bridesmaids, she may also can and keep green and flourishing longer than without it.

DRESS FOR SMALL GIRL.

This dress is in cherry and has a Mazyer bodice. Materials required 4½ yards oeqbyr 20 inches with bets tons.

Vogue of Pink.

Pink is very much in fashion, one a pink waistband will be worn if considered very chic. Black satin, and then especially black and pink, and long tight sleeves fasten with white buttons.

Sheep and poultry go well together, and when once the buildings and fields are ready for them there is little work, compared with other stock, if they are kept for that.

Many dairymen are giving their cows simply a maintenance ration, and then supplement with grain, and big profit in dairying. Such dairying doesn't deserve a name.

Don't neglect to cultivate the grape vineyard up to fruiting time. The surface of the soil in the vineyard must be kept mellow throughout the fall, July and August days.

Skim the milk clean. The milk containing quite a little butter fat that is lost. Suppose you get the pigs, but butter fat at 20 to 25 cents a pound is cooperate pig fed.

There is a sense of our prairie town farming and business is much better than 1 a few years ago. The returns are more liberal, the yields 30 per cent on our investment.

The coal oil cockish is certainly good for consumption and kills all the maizes. Tomatoes mingled with cooked coal oil ashes will grow finely and keep green and flourishing longer than without it.

The Telephone and the Farmer's Wife

"One of the main reasons why I would not be without my telephone," said a farmer, "is the pleasure it gives my wife and my knowledge of her security when I'm away."

The farm telephone dispels loneliness and summons aid when emergencies arise. Write for the booklet, "What Uncle Sam Says About the Rural Telephone." Write to-day. It will prove interesting.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pa
John G. Beam
Local Manager, York, Pa

C. A. BINGHAM,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor
Lot and Farm Surveys. Maps and Grades.
Building stakes set out Superintended. Plans and Specifications.
Estimates and Reports. Sewers, Pavements, Roads.
Sentinel Building, Carlisle, Pa. Telephone Connection.

ADAMS COUNTY NEWS
PUBLISHED SATURDAYS
R. W. Oyster-Yeater, women, Gettysburg
Times and News Publishing Company.
W. Lavere Hafer
Secy & Treas.
Philip R. Bikle,
President and Editor
Subscription $1 per year, if paid in advance.
The date to which your subscription is paid, is on the green address label on your paper.
If the date is not on the address label two weeks after you send money, please let us know.
The Adams County News will be pleased to receive items of interest, if they are signed by the party who sends them. We have both telephones and ask that our friends call us up as often as is consistent with possible.
Entered as second-class matter December 19, 1908, at the post office at Gettysburg, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

The Adams County News takes pleasure in not publishing, being neutral. We aim to maintain a high standard in its parties in our general news columns, concerning state or national politics, is further aided us by the American Press Association, a concern which gives the same news to Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, or Socialist papers and which is strictly non-partisan.
Our advertising columns are open to all candidates and all parties.

FINDS HISSTOLEN BUGGY NEAR HOME

Mysterious Disappearance of Buggy belonging to Marks Bream, of Near York Springs, is Explained. Simple Enough.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of the buggy and harness of Marks Bream, when his team was taken from York Springs several weeks ago, has been cleared up. It has been found that the missing vehicle was within a few miles of his home all the time.

Jodie Marks, who had been working for William Hayberger, of Tyrone township, for the past summer is charged with taking the rig.

On the Sunday morning following the disappearance of the team young Marks asked Mr. Hayberger for the loan of a horse to bring home a buggy that he said he (Marks) had purchased from John Shultz, Jr. Mr. Hayberger gave the boy the horse and in due time the buggy was put in the Hayberger wagon shed.

As Mr. Shultz left for a trip west about that time nothing further was thought about the matter until he returned home last week and it developed that he had not sold a buggy but not to Marks.

Mr. Bream learned of the buggy find and went up to the Hayberger farm and identified not secured his property. In the meantime Marks had left for parts unknown.

No blame is attached to Mr. Hayberger in the occurrence.

MADE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

While Sheriff Bream at the Sheriff's Chute wedding well armed with rifle, confetti and other missiles, were waiting to receive the bride couple on their honeymoon, Wednesday afternoon, the newlyweds stole out of the rear door of the house and mounted an old spring wagon which was on hand waiting. Taking the lines in hand the groom had the team well under way before the groom discovered their escape. The "tool team" drove to West Confederate avenue where Jacob Hartman was awaiting them in his automobile. The team was unhitched and the second method of travel adopted. From Gettysburg they went to Baltimore where a third and one of "locomotion" was used, the trolley being brought into play to take the bride and groom to Harrisburg from where their journey south by way of Baltimore.

MISSION CLOSES

Tuesday night's beautiful devotion to St. Teresa's Little Church was a befitting closing to the successful mission and Holy Hour conducted by them has been in progress for the past ten days. The church, as usual, was crowded. The Missionary in his final sermon pleaded with all to remain true to their God and until the moment of death. Together with Fathers Dannebaur and Dougherty there were present the Rt. Rev. Bishop Shanahan, D.D. Very Rev. James Butler, Fathers Murphy, Heuster and Smith, of Hanover. Fathers Lee, Grat and Scanlon, of York, Fathers Welch and Hoban, of Carlisle; Father Howard, Chambersburg; Father Brandt, of Fairfield; Father Mullhenny, of Emmaustville; and Father O'Callahan, of Gettysburg.

Prices and rides all reduced. Hunting coats ice and all kinds of hunter's supplies at very low prices. We also have a big stock of all kinds of shells and "extra" prices. These are all new and fresh goods. Adams County Hardware Co. Advertisement.

Interesting News From Adams County Towns

Personals and Items of News Interest from Various Towns in the County. What the People in the Different Sections are Doing. Entertaining Visitors. Services in the County Churches

STARNERS

Starners, Oct 10—John Sinner has moved from the W. S. Adams house to Reading where he has secured employment.

Clinus Frost expects to build an end to his house in the near future.

Edward Starner and wife, of near Gradenville, spent Sunday with Mr. Starner's mother Mrs Priscilla Starner.

William Wolford sold a fine cow on Wednesday.

Mrs. Caroline Miller and daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Miller, of Bolting Springs, spent Sunday with Mrs. Miller's brother, Charles Bream and family.

Clayton Shrader moved into Bruner Brothers' house one day this week.

Mr. Goodyear, of near Carlisle, spent one day this week with Mrs. H. W. Starner.

Melvina Bake, of Harrisburg, spent one day this week with his sister, Mrs Clarence Starner, and family.

Lew Johns has shoot 100 bushels of potatoes this fall

Raymond Rex started to husk corn last week.

Misses Linnie Brown, Lydia Crum and Emma Sanders spent one day last week in Gettysburg

Reuben Weiker had his leg badly cut on the tin shock.

Ira Strahert spent Sunday with Clarence Starner and family.

John Paxton has sold his home to the Reading Railroad Co., and he and his wife intend to make their future home with their daughter Mrs. Sidney Bikle, of Mount Pleasant.

William Sinner has bought Albert Paxton's home and is doing painting in it. Mrs. Wolford, where he intends to make his future home.

WHITE CHURCH

White Church Oct. 10—There will be preaching in the church next Sunday morning at ten o'clock

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Butt and children spent Sunday with Joseph Appler and wife of Two Taverns.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Butt and son, Ralph, spent Sunday at Biglerville.

John Letsinger, of near Bethel Church, Md., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Letsinger.

Mrs. Jesse Butt has finished sewing for Mr. Ohler, of near Taneytown, and will now be busy sewing for the ladies of Harry Sobert, of near White Hall.

The farmers through this section are busily engaged in butchering.

Charles Wantzotz lost one of his horses from lock jaw.

Samuel Sanders and grandson spent Saturday night and Sunday in Washington township with relatives.

The following visited at the home of Joseph H Letsinger and family on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Null, Mary and Martha Bowers, and Ada Letsinger, of Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hershbouer, David Sarr and Gladys Letsinger.

IDAVILLE

Idaville Oct. 12—Preaching services will be held in the United Brethren church in Idaville next Sunday by the pastor, Rev. Amos Funk.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cahill and daughter, Miss Grace, of Holly Springs, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Paxton.

Mrs. Anna Lentz and daughter, Miss Lentz, spent Monday in Carlisle.

Mrs. Harry Bream and daughter, Mabel, of Middletown, are spending the week with friends here.

Miss Irene Miller, of York Springs, is spending the week with Lena Groome.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Penner, a daughter.

Mrs. Charles W. Starry and son, Melvin, of Goshen, spent Monday in Idaville.

The annual educational meeting of the teachers of Hamiltonian township will be held at Cold Springs. Miss Sherretts teacher, Oct. 20th. All teachers are urged to attend.

Masters, John Allison and Ray Felix attended the Hagerstown fair on Thursday. They report having a good time.

NEW CHESTER

New Chester, Oct. 13—Mr. and Mrs. William Shull spent Thursday with Elmer Moul and wife, of near York Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. C.E Winand, Mrs. J. C Livelsberger and William Winand, of New Oxford, spent Sunday with Frederick Winand, of York Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Herbert spent with Friday with Benny Myers and family, of York Springs

William Wagner and family, of Stone Jug, David Murch and family, of Biglerville, Robert Blowhart and family, Harry Wagner and family, of near this place, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wagner.

John Mummert and Miss Alta Mummert, of Baltimore, are visiting Samuel Cashman and family.

Mrs. Daniel H. Withers, Mrs. Joseph W. Withers and Miss Mary Winand spent Tuesday in New Oxford

Mrs. Charles Spangler, of Hogentogler Wolf and family, of Biglerville, Emory Wolf and wife, of near here and Dr. Korn, of New Oxford, spent Sunday with Alex. Wolf and wife.

Miss Jacob Wagner and daughter, of Arendtsville, spent a few days with her son, Ira Wagner and wife.

David Hoffman, of Reading spent the past week with his mother, Mrs. Charlotte Hoffman.

Mrs. Clayton Wagner has a pumpkin that weighs 16 pounds.

Charles Spangler and family and William Moul and family, of New Oxford, spent Sunday with David Cocher and family.

Miss Mary Marsh is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wesley Weaver, near Hollabaugh.

Mrs. Hollabaugh and family, of Center Mills, spent Sunday with N. J. Waltman and wife.

Mrs. Charles Spangler and wife, of York Springs, George Raffensperger and family, of Biglerville, spent Sunday with Isaac Fontorf and wife.

Mrs. Jacob Wagner and Lillie Wolf spent Sunday with Archie Withers and family.

NARNER

Narner Oct. 10—Jefferson T. Hess, of Hagerstown, spent a few days with relatives at this place.

Mrs. Simon Greenmount, made a short visit to friends at this place Tuesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. E M. Stash spent Sunday last visiting Mr. Stash's mother, near Bonneauville.

W. A. Snyder, Sr. and wife spent Sunday with relatives at Taneytown.

Miss Ada Hess spent Saturday afternoon a few days with his brother Mr. C. E. Myers.

The following were guests at Mr H. H. Bowers' on Sunday: Silas Horner and wife, of Two Taverns, Harvey Hess and wife, of Silver Run, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheney and son, last at Gettysburg.

Mrs. Bowers moved into the John E. Hess property last week.

Mr. Ira Bream has almost completed the new front porch at his home.

HEIDELSBURG

Huldtersburg Oct 12—Mrs Gish and daughter, Miss Cheney spent Sunday with J. F. Houck and family.

Mrs. Lizzie Bream, of near York Springs, spent Sunday with William Yohe and wife

Miss Grace Hoffman spent Saturday afternoon with Miss Linda Hoverstick.

John Bream, of near York Springs, spent Sunday with his parents, W. H. Houck and wife.

Mrs. Jacob Wagner and Miss Lula Hollabaugh, of this place, spent Sunday with Mrs. Lizzie Myers, of York Springs.

Howard Hoverstick and wife, of Hunterstown, spent Sunday with John Hoverstick and wife.

Dr. Kuhlman, Dr. Bibis and Rev. Bowers motored to Harrisburg from Millersburg, Md., where they attended the session of the Maryland Synod.

Mrs. S. F. Lehman, of Burkittsville, is spending some time at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Granstaff.

Mrs. George Johns, of Sheltowsky avenue, and Mrs. Catharine Beard, of route 4, are spending some days in Washington in Mechanicsburg and Biglerville.

ARENDTSVILLE

Arendtsville, Oct. 13—Mrs. O. G. Baughman sold her house and lot in this town to Milton Jacobs for $700.

John Thoman sold his house and lot on the east side of the street and this place to J. Andrew Kuhn for $1250.

The house and lot of Mrs. Lucy Schlosser deceased, in this place, was sold last Saturday at public sale for $412, to Jesse B. Fiper of York.

Solomon Crum, of near Bryants, has a fine cherry tree that is in blossom now and quite a number of our trunk gardens have late roasting ears which is unusually late in the season. The severest light frosts that we had did not hurt vegetation and the pasture fields are still quite green.

Rev. I. B. Swope, of near York, and Rev. Dougherty, of Gettysburg, spent several hours here with friends last Thursday.

Norris L. Minter, wife and their three children and Mrs. Mary Hoover and son, Donald, of Gettysburg, spent Wednesday and Sunday with relatives in this place.

Hansen C. Rittinger, wife and son, Harold, of Hanover, spent Sunday visiting here in the houses of Philip and Jacob Rittinger.

Mrs. Amos Fissel is visiting one of her sisters in Iowa and the other in Kansas.

Mrs Lillie Lockard, of Altoona, is visiting in the home of her brother Hiram C. Lady, in this town.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Trostle spent several days last week with friends in Baltimore.

FAIRFIELD

Fairfield Oct. 13—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sullivan, of Irvington, Ohio, are visiting relatives in this place, their former home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Creager spent the forepart of the week with Messrs. Wm. Lonsdale and Mrs. Reynolds in Hagerstown.

John F. Low is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Charles Wallace, in Harrisburg.

Vernon Riley and family and Mrs. Ida Riley, of Gettysburg, spent Sunday with Mrs. Riley's mother, Mrs. Mary Cashtown and McKnightstown and will move here next week.

Mrs. Mary E. McCreary has a fine lot of chrysanthemums on exhibit here.

Mrs Mahala Watson has moved from near McKnightstown into one of the houses of J. D. Crum and wife, of this street.

Fairfield Oct. 20—Quite a number of our citizens took in the Hagerstown fair last week.

Mrs. Frank Musselman spent some time in Gettysburg this week.

Mrs. J. H. Houck and wife, and C. P. Bream attended the West Pennsylvania Synod at York this week.

Mrs. Robert Hoffman is visiting at her mother, Mrs. Bertha Kittinger, in Chambersburg.

Mrs. Mahala Watson moved on Thursday from the Crum property into the home of Mrs. Mary Sanders on Water street.

Under the state road is progressing. It is reported that there will soon be considerable work done on it.

T. G. Riley has been appointed by the Governor a notary public in and I. G. Eyler, resigned.

Mrs. Mary Warren was a business visitor here on Wednesday.

J. J. Reidmiller is having a number of concrete walks laid at his properties.

CHURCH NOTICES

CABSTOWN REFORMED

Sunday school 9 a. m. In the evening the Christian Endeavor will have a special program. McKnightstown will have their service in place of Cabstown. Services at 7 o'clock.

ST. PAUL'S REFORMED

Sunday School at 9 o'clock.

ROCK CHAPEL M.T.C

Sunday School at 9 o'clock. Communion services 10.30 a. m. Revival services begin at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at 7:30 o'clock The Rev. W. A. Herich, of Carlisle, will preach and conduct Communion services at Bonneauville at 10.30 a. m. and at Weshville 2.30 p. m. All People Meeting at Bendersville in the evening. A. C. Logan pastor.

Mrs. Mary Brother has gone to the Garfield hospital in Washington to at ualy to be a trained nurse.

VIRGINIA MILLS

Virginia Mills, Oct 13—The following spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs William Kepner, Misses Ada and Abraham Kepner of Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shue and family, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Kepner and family, of this place; Roy Kepner, of Mt Pleasant; Charles Kepner and son, Ellis of Fairfield station; Mr and Mrs. Columbus Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Sheuer and family, of Gettysburg R. D.

Oliver and Harvey Daywalt, of Fayetteville, R. D. spent Saturday and Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Maurice Lightner.

Robert Kump spent Saturday in Waynesboro.

Mrs Nettie Kepner and children, Ivo and Ruby, are visiting a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rice, Cherrie Kepner, of Fairfield Station.

Mr and Mrs. William Shindledecker and son, Mt. Carmel, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lightner.

Mrs. John Kump and Miss Trostle Lightner spent Friday in Gettysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bigham and daughter, Mary, of near Gettysburg, spent Sunday at the home of mr. and Mrs Charles Nicely.

Mrs. John Klett and daughter, Myrtle, of Gettysburg, spent several days recently with her daughter, Mrs. William Shindledecker.

Mr and Mrs Samuel Shindledecker, of Mt. Pleasant, visited at the home of Mrs. Virginia Rice, on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Musselman spent Sunday in Littlestown.

Mrs. William Kepner and Arthur Klett are on the sick list.

John Kemp is improving his residence with a new porch and other improvements Clarence Murphy of Orrtanna is doing the work.

Miss Stark Kepner and Harry Klett visited friends in Fairfield Sunday last.

Mrs. George Sheer and three children, of Gettysburg R. D., are spending some time with her parents. Mr and Mrs. Jesse Rice.

John Carrens is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bigham and family, of Gettysburg R. D.

Misses Daisy and Goldie Carrens spent Sunday at Mt. Pleasant.

BRYSONIA

Brysonia, Oct. 15—Allen and Blanche Bream visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas recently.

Harvey Koontz and Maud Taylor, of Gettysburg, J. D. Crum and wife, of near this place, spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Clayton Bosserman.

Charles Thomas, of Arendtsville, Mrs. Clay Taylor wife and daughter, Helen, of Gettysburg, spent a short time at the home of B. J. Taylor on Sunday.

Harry Fast Jr threshed 250 bushels of buck wheat for Lemuel Bream, of Flat Dale in two hours and thirty minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Bream and wife, les spent Sunday west of Gettysburg at the home of Charles Bream.

James Cook visited at the home of Sam mons, spent a few days with him recently.

Miss Ella Thomas is working at the home of Clayton Bosserman for a few days.

Mrs. Lovina Orner and son, George, visited friends at Mummasburg recently.

Guy Taylor and Ruth Taylor, of Arendtsville, and a friend from Lumber land visited at the home of B. W. Taylor last evening.

M'KNIGHTSTOWN

McKnightstown, Oct. 15—Lawrence Smit and family, Charles Tout and Mrs. Lizzie Flack, of Cashtown, spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Hoover.

Harry Ridinger wife and family, Mrs. M. Ann Flack, of Cashtown, visited Mrs. Ezra McLaughlin.

Miss Ridinger, of Gettysburg, is visiting her sister, Miss Cora Mcknight.

Miss Mary Carbaugh, of Tillie, spent Sunday with Miss Blanche Keller.

Mrs Robert Hoffman, of Littlestown, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. John Hoffman.

C. Weiker and wife visited their daughter, Mrs. Baston Fidler, of Bridgeport.

Miss Alma Kittinger, of Fairfield, visited Miss Mary Mickley.

One of the greatest catches of rain was made by H.E. Riddlemoser, 90 inches in a 24 hour period.

S P. Hoover, postmaster of Tillie, is so was ill, is slowly recovering.

WOMEN ELECT AND ADJOURN

Missionary Convention Chooses Shrewsbury for Next Year's Meeting. Gettysburg Ladies Given Offices. Other Business.

At the thirty-first annual convention of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Lutheran West Pennsylvania Synod, in session in St. Matthew's church, it was reported that the membership had increased 1000 and that there are 108 separate organizations divided as follows: Women's societies 49 young people's societies, 31 mission bands.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Ella C. Hoffman, of Shrewsbury, showed at Thursday's session, shows that the societies contributed during the past year $6100 for various purposes which is considered remarkable in view of the fact that there was no special or unusual effort to raise funds. The next regular contribution will be made on toward the $2.00 mark.

The report of the various officers and department secretaries were all of a most encouraging nature and the delegates were highly pleased with the showing made.

Following is list of the officers of Mrs. F. C. Kerper, of Chambersburg, the president of the society, who presided also in charge of Mrs. L. C. Bell, of York, the first vice president. The first session on Wednesday evening was well attended. There was music by a male quartet from Hanover. The greetings were extended by Mrs. J. B. Scherr and the response made by Miss Margery Lilly, of Mechanicsburg. Mrs. H. M. Kieffer, of Hanover, then presided and the principal address was made by Dr. L. B. Wolf, of the Board of Foreign Missions.

On Thursday in addition to hearing reports interesting talks were given all times the conventios was addressed by Dr. H. M. Kieffer, of Hanover attendance on the Lutheran Summer assembly at Gettysburg College.

After electing their officers and choosing Shrewsbury for holding next year's convention the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Lutheran West Pennsylvania Synod adjourned shortly after noon Friday.

At the meeting of the executive board matters of routine business were taken up and short talks were given by several visiting delegates. The officers were elected as follows:

President, Miss Margery Lilly, Mechanicsburg; first vice president, Mrs. L. C. Bell, York; second vice president, Mrs. G. E. Lenfer, Newville; third vice president, Mrs. Charles E. Hamrick, Carlisle; treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Hoover, Shrewsbury; secretary, Miss Minnie Wetzel, Carlisle. Mrs. F. C. Kerper and Mrs. Chambersburg and Miss Emily Young, of Hanover, were made members of the executive committee.

Miss Margery Lilly was made delegate and Mrs. Homer D. Bodine alternate to the biennial meeting of the General Council at Atchison, Kansas, in May. The following department secretaries were elected: Miss Minnie Wetzel, Carlisle, Miss Annie Walker, Newville; Thank Offering, Miss Anna Greever, Newville; Literature, Mrs. Charles E. Hamrick, Carlisle; Mrs. C. Stritz, Greencastle; Mission Band, Mrs. Mary Bodine, Shrewsbury.

At the Thursday afternoon's session the conference reports were given. Mrs. G. N. Lenfer gave the Cumberland Valley conference report. Following the report from this county: and Mrs. F.O. Gotwald from York county. Other reports were given by Mrs. Bodine, Mrs. C. Ansilliery, Mrs. S. A. Gresham, Dallastown; Mrs. Charles Hamrick, Miss Louise Stitzer; Mission Band, Mrs. Lenfer and Mrs. Chambersburg.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon session was the children's hour by Mrs. Bodine and Mrs. Mary Weeks. The children of St. Johns church gave a delightful missionary program which was thoroughly enjoyed by delegates and other visitors present.

Thursday evening Dr. G. W. Enders, of Reading, spoke on the subject "Jesus Is Coming." The subject was "Jesus Is Coming." The subject was "Jesus Is Coming." The subject was "Jesus Is Coming."

WILDER WINTER THAN LAST, THE SIGNS SAY

There are many signs of the coming winter. The second hatch of fall caterpillars, espie trees in bloom, dandelion in bloom, dandelion in bloom, the flight of birds to the mountains, and worms chirping in the evening are among the signs of the coming hours, are among these. Besides these signs there is an old adage that the fall thus far for pleasant weather has been a record breaker for many a year. If signs point to anything, the approaching winter will be much colder, severe than last. The ground squirrels were never known to be more plentiful, and, instead of being busily engaged in harvesting the crop of nuts for the winter, they are playing toy with each other among the rocks in the mountain.

FARMERS' DAY EXHIBITS HERE

Gushous People Receiving and Putting on Display Fruit and Vegetables for Farmers' Day Exhibit. All Ready.

Though the hour for receiving Farmers' Day exhibits does not close until nine o'clock Saturday morning almost every business place in town and some surely produce ready for display on Friday and others are getting their exhibits in readiness so that the day will exceed all expectations.

The final arrangements have been completed and the judges have been secured and will start their work promptly on Saturday morning at the same time the exhibit is opened and the big task is accomplished. Three men and three women have consented to act, All are from the county town outside of Gettysburg and their names will not be announced until this afternoon.

The judges will begin the rounds of the country girls, not over 20 years of age, will be from two to three o'clock when all committees will assemble and report at S. E. Trimmer's fire and ten minutes later the horse and wagon exhibiting fine horse teams will take up the line of March headed by a mule. The two horse teams are to be taken to Landau's drug store between the hours of two and three.

From the number of telephone calls and letters inquiries received at the office concerning Farmers' Day arrangements, it is safely presumed we believe that the entire community will be on hand the day, as the saddest feature of the day in the morning will be spent in viewing the displays which, in the afternoon, band concerts and other forms of entertainment will be provided for everybody.

Two more premiums have been added. Gettysburg will give a large rosat of beef to the man selling him the most hogs on Farmers' Day, and Bains, in the same strand, will give a pair of shoes to the man with the largest watch measure.

STUCKENBERG LECTURE

The first of this year's series of free lectures at the college was given Thursday afternoon by Bros Chapel before a large audience by President King, of Oberlin College, whose subject was "Reverence for Personality".

President King held the close attention of the audience for more than an hour and the lecture was deemed one of the best since the Stuckenberg course have been held. It was the first to be given under the auspicies of the new Board of college Lectreedp on Social Science for Gettysburg College. A gift of $1000 has been made for its endowment in honor of the late Rev. J. G. Stuckenberg, a warm friend of the college and for many years pastor of the American Church in Berlin. Recently a Wednesday night's lecture the Glee Club sang several selections.

The Rhodes Scholarship examination for the Pittsburgh district has not just been held at Gettysburg College under the supervision of President Henry A. Hollis. Candidates from all over the state were present to take the examinations, among which were five from Gettysburg College. The winners of these scholarships will be educated in English universities at the expenses of the Rhodes Foundation.

MRS. SICKLES SAVES HUSBAND'S HOME AGAIN

"A plea against the personal effects of General E. Sickles, U. S. Minister to War veteran and former Ambassador to Spain, was made on Thursday by a stranger with to Sheriff Hershberger, who agreed to a postponement of the sale threatened sale when Mrs. Sickles promised to pay about November 10 money necessary to satisfy a new judgment against her husband.

This is the second time within a few weeks that Mrs. Sickles has come to the veteran's aid. On the other occasion she paused her jewelry that was her property when a bailiff in the court of Spain when General Sickles home her them. This action led to a report that the couple would be united but although Mrs. Sickles paid the judgment their social relations remained as before, each issued a statement declaring their reconciliation was impossible.

MRS. DAVID BESSE

Mrs. Jane Rosse, widow of the late David Rosse, died at her home above Davis Furnace Wednesday morning at the age of 86 years 8 months and 21 days.

Funeral Friday at 1 o'clock. Interment in Union Cemetery, Fairbald.

MRS. ELIZA SLAYBAUGH

Mrs. Eliza Slaybaugh died October 25 at Kingsville, Ohio. She is a sister of Anthony Deardorff of York Springs and Mrs. Annie Wilson Gettysburg. Funeral at Kingsville Sunday at 2 o'clock.

GOVERNOR HURT IN FOG

Michigan's Chief Executive on Train Wrecked at Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 25.—A number of persons were injured on street and steam railroads in accidents caused by fog.

Two women and a man were slightly hurt when a Big Four train crash ed into the sleeper of a Michigan Central train. A Pennsylvania railroad train struck a third and several passengers were injured. On the South Side elevated road there was a rear collision in which a motorman was injured.

Governor Chase S. Osborn, of Michigan, was on the Michigan Central train that was hit by the Big Four train by the time he prevailed over the South Side. He was suffering from a bad cold and had to use a nose after the accident. Other passengers on the train included who was asthert. The governor came to Chicago to confer with political speakers.

Murderer Sent to Death.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 25. James Hubert Rowe, a murderer, was shot to death at the Utah prison 7:a m. Friday. Rowe was the first man ever had elected to be shot rather than be hanged. He was pronounced dead before a bomb wall and shot at by a firing squad of five men. Rowe was later buried with blank cartridges

RURAL NOTES

Roy H. Ryan, of York, was a Sunday visitor with Harry Wyrmeister and wife, of route 5.

Mrs. Ida Bream is Sunday with Mr. J. F. Howe and family were: John Monnert and Miss Alta Mummert, Mrs. Monnert and son Harold and daughter, William, of near Arendtsville; and Mummert and daughter, Miss Barbara. Sara and Kathryn, of near New Oxford.

John W. Bollinger, of route 31, spent the week with Wymeister and sons of his sister, Mrs. D. E. Walker.

Miss Ruth Sentz, of Piney Creek, spent last week with Miss Ruth Bollinger, of route 31.

Mrs. Harry Bollinger is the home of Andrew Kane the past week were: Mrs. Ira K. Bream, Mrs. Ida M. Kohl, of Bonbaven Valley; Z. H. Cashman wife and daughters Miss Lottie and Mrs. Blanche Kane, of Mt. Pleasant Mills; W. K. Weikert, wife and daughter, and Miss Mamie Kane, of Mt. Pleasant Mills Tanglebaugh, wife and daughter, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Frank Klunple Miss Sallie Klunple, Miss Nando and Gladys Klunple, Miss Viola Sees, Stephen Guy and Lawrence Lawson, Clifford Sentz, Frank Beard and Aaron Sentz.

Miss Jessie Kane, of Orrtanna Route 1, is the guest visiting at the home of J. A. Kane.

MRS. WILLIAM WEIMER

Mrs. Elizabeth Weidner, wife of Rev. William Weidner, died Monday at 5 p. m. at the home of her son, Frank, near Goodyear, aged 82 years 4 months and 5 days.

She leaves her husband and three sons, D. D. Weidner, York Springs; Rev. D.; William Weidner, Idaville route 25; Frank at home, seventeen grandchildren five great grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Henry Hostler of Gettysburg.

Funeral Sunday morning meeting at the home at 10 o'clock and further at Goodyear's Church. Interment in the Bendersville cemetery. No flowers by offering. All friends are requested to accept this as an invitation with out further notice.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

The coroner's jury in the case of the death of Richard Sheldon, killed on the Western Maryland Railroad below Camp Oxford last week rendered a verdict on Thursday afternoon of accidental death by being struck by a train. The jury was composed of Harry Wagner in the case and District Attor ney Swope, who was also present. The trumps had as witnesses were released from custody on Wednesday, instead of their having been responsible for the man's death.

PERSONALS

Mrs. A. J. Kitzmiller, of Shippensburg, is a visitor at the home of Mrs. Ida Bream, of route 31, Bollinger.

Mrs. Frank Layman and son, George Herbert Layman, of Portland, Oregon, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Dutt on Springs Avenue.

Miss Rachel Granville has returned from a trip of several weeks to New England.

PROPERTIES SOLD

W. A. Taughinbaugh, real estate agent, reports the following sales:

The George Baker farm in Cumberland township, containing about 10 acres, to Walter S. Pouth, of Mount Pleasant Mills, private sale on Saturday April 1, 1918.

The John Wentzel property on West Middle street to Mrs. Mary C. Baker, of Cumberland township, on private terms. Possession April 1.

WON ANOTHER

"Miller Boy", brown gelding owned by Miller and Brother of New Oxford, won a $500 stake race at Raleigh N.C. on Thursday. He was driven by the veteran farmer, Hornung Tyson, of Newark, Del.

STRANGE SEARCH FOR LOST GEMS

Woman Loses Her Jewels to a Stranger.

$5000 REWARD FOR RETURN

New York Society Leader Railroad at Gems Worth $100,000 While on a Caravan.

New York, Oct. 25.—A young married woman, whose name is on the preferred list of New York and Newport's social rosters, and whose leader-ship is "one of the biggest men in New York," according to his own confession, is willing to pay $5000 for the recovery of nearly $100,000 worth of jewels which were stolen from her on Tuesday night.

Furthermore, she is more than anxious to pay this sum with no questions asked, for she has already lost her gems and now hidden her identity and the awful knowledge of what which led to the levitation of diamonds and pearls from her jewel case, her fingers and from about her neck.

A saleswoman and a private detective and a chambermaid in a hotel are implicated in the affair and with three people aside from the thief him self who will be glad to see the society is willing to pay a king's ransom to get them back.

Here is the way this One Thousand and One Arabian Nights' story was revcled to one John H. Beckman, the house detective of the hotel, in the private office of business is at Ninth avenue and Twenty-third street.

It was about the o'clock on Wednesday morning, when the last of the guests were astir, that the waiter in the luncheonette, that a woman, whose name he did not know, had been shown the strain of past revelry and whose gown was carelessly thrown on the back of Fifth avenue, and there only in a wrapper, had entered the dining room through the so-called "ladies entrance" on Twenty-third street. When a waiter came she ordered a cocktail and a light breakfast.

The proprietor himself came into the dining room at this point and shortly the tale the waiter had told him of the "lady in gems" who was ordering ham and eggs and a dry Martini, reached the office of the hotel by telephone in the establishment, in a manner which showed that the hotel clerk unknown called a certain sum to him—and Beckman finally had she was going to ring up a private detective around Broadway.

As the story was told, it developed that the woman had come to the desk of the Hotel Astor with friends. But she had not provided herself with a room, and after the dinner, at which she had been the center of attraction for the subway station at the Times Square. It was here on the mezzanine that the "gentleman" designated in the tale told him he had left Broadway at woman of middle age, who appeared to be waiting for him in a casual manner was respectful, it seems, the tale went on, and the couple got up and and like a Chesterfield of the drawing room or a knight errant abroad, escorted to the aid of a woman in distress, and offered all the assistance in his power. And then it seems that the lady in gems had suggested as far as Seventy-second street, and here the escort proved himself a friend indeed, even and confidence, for he gave the woman some sort of drug that induced her to sleep.

It seems that the secret was out by this, however, for let the woman find her way from Seventy-second street and Broadway, and, as she awakened later, bid her to find the rich gems she so treasured, if she could.

This woman whose confidence was misplaced, it is said, awoke with the impression of her position until she reached the room of the hotel and sank down near the bedroom bureau. Then she awakened, it is said, in the street. The loot was none to take her way.

Smith never saw her before, it is said. Her man thinks he will see her again, but say was Smith did what he could to do when the woman offered that $5000 premium for the return of the gems which was taken by mistake by an escort.

WHITE HOUSE GETS A BATH

Given Its Most Thorough Scrubbing Since Civil War Days.

Washington, Oct. 25.—For the first time since the days of the Civil War interiors the White House was washed from basement to attic from garret to cellar.

Firm aqueous placed streams of water into the presidential mansion and a small army of women scrubbed the interior. All the hardwood floors were done over and the woodwork repainted.

Say Evans Father Free Soil.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Prompt response of his twelve-year-old son to his cries for help saved the life of Dr. H. S. Hatton, a prominent physician of Antioch, near here, when the phy sician was gored by a vicious bull.

Cholera Scourge in India.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Cholera again is scourging India, according to a report to the United States public health service. During the week ended the there were 21,356 cases, with 15,610 deaths.

MORIN ACQUITTED OF MALFEASANCE

Pittsburgh's Safety Director Freed of Charge.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 24.—By a vote of six to three, John M. Morin, director of public safety of Pittsburgh and nominee for congressman-at-large, was acquitted by the city council of the charges of malfeasance in office.

By a vote of five to four, Morin was relieved entirely of the consideration of the powerful municipal department of which he is head.

Prior to the vote in the Morin case, which has been pending since last May, the council, which consists of seven members, acquitted Mayor William McNamara and Controller Joseph O. Armstrong, the two other members, who also were charged with malfeasance.

Three days' consideration was given to posty to the vote in the cases until early yesterday, when it was announced that the cases be decided more promptly because of Morin's being a candidate for office, and this resulted in the delay.

The charges of malfeasance brought against Mr. Morin, director of the public safety of Pittsburgh, became a issue in that big and were brought before the city council by the Victory Reserve, of which A. Lee Wall is the president and moving spirit.

Wall is the Republican movement prosecution instituted, with Morin as the head, who was elected on the Democratic ticket by Joseph G. Armstrong, director of public works, and Dr. C. Wallace, director of health and Dr. Wallace's case has not been tried

The charges against Morin were that he had given general absolution, charg ing him with permitting the operation of illegal liquor selling, and that he "is not a fit person to hold the office of public safety and is incompetent and incapable in performing the same."

Forehand Killed by Train.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 25. — Edward Forehand, a farm hand, was struck and killed by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad a short distance west of Robertsvon, near here. A track walker found the body lying in a ditch along the right of way.

GETTYSBURG MARKETS

Prices at the Gettysburg warehouse corrected by C. Clifton Wolf, Jr., Successor to J. Geo. Wolf's Sons Co.

	Per Bu.
New Dry Wheat	.92
Old Wheat	.92
Corn	.97
New Oats	.45

RETAIL PRICES

	Per 100
Baby Beef	$1.50
Coarse Spring Bran	1.50
Red Dog Flour	1.70
Cotton Seed Meal	1.80
Gluten Feed	1.80
White Middlings	1.70
Red Middlings	1.60
Timothy Hay	.90
Mixed Hay	.80
Baled Straw	.60
Oats	.07.00 per 100
Cement	$1.85 per bbl

	Per 100
New York Chicken-Brewery Wednesday, and 80 cents

Advertisement.

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 25.—That General Felix Diaz and all the officers of the rebellious troops and marines captured at Vera Cruz will be shot for a foregone conclusion.

It is probable that that will be the final to go. In fact, some of them may already have been executed. The captured officers will be tried before a court martial, presided over by General Gallegos, who took the town for the rebels.

General Diaz, although not born a member of the army, is considered in such court under the law, which provides for such a trial of any civilian under like circumstances.

Those soldiers and marines troops will be distributed, one in ten being executed. They will be chosen by lot to pay the penalty for all.

This information was imported officially.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING

Roosevelt Presidential Elector in District Approves Bull Moose Ticket Pre-emption

Replies to Inquires of Progressive—Can See no Tricks Formation of that Party.—The Following Correspondence is Interesting and Explains Itself.

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 21, 1912.

Editor, Star and Sentinel,

Dear Sir:—Having had frequent verbal queries and several letters similar to the one enclosed, may I ask that you publish same with my answer, that it may reach others of the Roosevelt electors.

Hon. W. H. Tipton, Gettysburg, Pa.,

Dear Sir:—Knowing that you are a Roosevelt supporter, and that you were one of the Roosevelt electors chosen by the Roosevelt supporters of Pennsylvania I desire to advise you that I am not to be an to the object of the formation of the "Bull Moose" ticket was simply to give an opportunity to all Roosevelt tolerants vote for entire Roosevelt ticket entered Republican without cutting. In other words a straight ticket withdrawal of the Democratic for that of Mr. Bull.

The "Bull Moose" and the "Washington Party" Tickets are identical in every respect except Congressional candidates.

To the second query I would say that to my knowledge it is not a trick on the part of Mr. Lafean, but was certainly a move in his interest by his friends who are supporters of Col. Roosevelt.

In my opinion the "Bull Moose" ticket should operate against the Roosevelt cause.

Yours truly,

WM. H. TIPTON.

Robes and Blankets

Actually the finest display and best assortment we ever had in stock.

Plush Robes That are beauties. They are guaranteed to wear. A pattern to please almost anyone. Some of them are sold at a mighty low price, too.

Horse Blankets Square blankets as well as the kind to fit close to the horse. We have at all prices and not a bad one in the lot.

Come in, look at them; you don't need to buy. We are glad to show them. Over 175 pieces to select from.

C. C. BREAM,

Corner Stratton and York Street.

G.W. Weaver & Son's G.W. Weaver & Son

THE LEADERS

Dry Goods, Notions, Carpets, Ready-To-Wear-Goods

Farmer's Day Exhibit

We invite you to Exhibit in our Store on

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26th

Grapes, Apples, Cabbage

For which we will give the following Premiums.

For the plate of best Grapes -- Ladies' $5 Umbrella
For the plate of best Apples --- Men's $4.50 All Wool Sweater.
For the largest head of Cabbage --- Ladies' $5 Silk Waist.

Here is an opportunity to exhibit your products, see the latest style creations for Winter, and spend an enjoyable day in town.

GETTYSBURG, PA.

BUSINESS OF COUNTY COURT

Charles H Wilson Receives Official Appointment as County Solicitor, Accounts Confirmed and Routine Business Transacted.

At a session of Court held on Monday the following business was transacted:—

Account of Edwin McCandlish, executor of the last will and testament of Rev. Edward Breidenbaugh, late of Hamiltonban, confirmed and executor discharged.

Account of the Gettysburg Trust Company, guardian of John W. Lerew, minor child of P. Frank Lerew, confirmed. Guardian's petition for discharge granted.

Account of Citizens & Trust Company, guardian of Elizabeth S Shriver, minor child of John Shaffer deceased, late of Mountain township confirmed and guardian discharged.

Charles H Wilson appointed county detective

Account of Christian Frey guardian of Ulysses M. Sidney, and Herring, confirmed and guardian discharged.

Petition of Annie C. Tust, widow of John Tust, for appraisers granted, and Raymond P. Topper and William L. Stahl appointed.

Petition of E H Hershbarger rupture and road viewer of Straban township to have Jacob Smith to show cause why he should not pay additional labor upon his road in Straban township.

The accounts aforesaid were confirmed.

Donald P. McPherson was appointed court interpreter in the testimony in the divorce proceedings of Aries J Mc-Clean vs St. John McClean.

A divorce was awarded in the case of Nannie Belle Bampton vs George L. Hampton.

JOHN BIFF

John Biffe, one of the best known farmers of this section, died at 10 p.m. Sunday, October 8th, on the home stead farm at Bruntsdown, aged 84 years and 26 days.

Mr. Biffe was a son of the late Abraham Biffe and was born on the farm where he spent all the years of his life with, who died about ten years ago. He was a Methodist of Asbury Adams county.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs Annie Snyder, of Conewago, and five sons, Abraham Biffe, Spring Grove; George Biffe, New Oxford; Jesse Biffe, Bruntsdown; Henry Biffe, Mid way, and Clinton Biffe, near Gettysburg

Funeral from his late home Thursday, Oct. 34; brief services at 8 a. m. Further services at St. Matthew's Lutheran church. Hanover, Rev. A. Reitmeyer, officiating. Interment in St. Olivet cem-etery, Hanover.

SURPRISE PARTY

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G Legore, on saturday in honor of their daughter Grace's birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs H. G Legore, Mr. and Mrs Harry Black, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little, Mr. and Mrs Charles King, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Jacobs, Mr and Mrs. W. S. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Legore, Mrs John Swartz, M. Kerr Lodge, Misses Grace Legore, Irene Flook, Elizabeth Legore, Mary Flook, Hilda Taylor Marin Little, Rose Wolfsberg, Eva Legore, Helena Overholtzer, Viola Jacobs, Helen Bortzfelser, Carrie Jacobs, Charles Black, Merrie Wolfsberg, Lloyd Harner, Paul Spangler, Jacob Flook, Chester Shriver, Norman Appler, Glennie Jacobs, Wilbur Claypoodle, Floyd Miller, Edgar Jacobs, Kenneth Keeney, Chester Jacobs.

HENRY KLUNK

Henry Klunk died Thursday at 5 p. m. in St Joseph's Hospital at Lancaster. His age was 74 years 8 months and 16 days.

He was a native of Berwick township and with his sister moved to Hanover about twelve years ago. After the death of his sister last March he was taken to St. Agnes Hospital for treatment, but was the last surviving member of his family

Funeral Monday Oct. 31 mass of requiem in St. Joseph's church Hanover at 9 a. m. Rev. J. A. Huber officiating. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Oliver Singer, has returned to her home on West Middle street, after visiting a week with relatives in Mount and Philadelphia.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE WILL MEET HERE

All Centers of Gettysburg College Influence to be Represented in Delegates who will Meet here Early Next Month.

The second annual convention of the women's leagues of Gettysburg College will be held in Gettysburg, and 8 in Brua Chapel. The women from counties so far from here ever are regard a few days are in the Province of Trevlan, on the south side of the Trad mountains, and in the northeast in the Caucasus. The three stripes vast areas of grass stretch to the horizon, raised only here and there by a few cherry and dwarf almond on the hillsides of the mountains, covered with the soil in clayey. Herds of cattle and horses graze on the plains.

It was early in the morning when bright clouds of smoke suddenly rose on from the steppe, a sure sign to the inhabitants that a fire was in progress. So appalling was the speed with which the fire rolled over the dry and yellow grass that the peasants had scarcely the moment necessary to escape just their own lives from destruction, The whole country speedily in all the villages until the tongues of fire, which came on nearer and nearer with resistless speed, appeared on the horizon.

Driven forward by the rushing wind sparks from the conflagration kindled in advance another fire, which in a short time enveloped 20,000 acres of standing grain. Scythe and scythe before the wind dashed on the wall of fire, waves. Enormous pillars of flame shot up into the air. The smoke was so dense that the sun, red and burning branches were buried up into the air and thrown far away.

Men and cattle were hard put to it to save themselves. Every local danger was of being scorched by the fiery breath; which was the dread of the fearless. Women and children who had fallen behind in the general rush dragged along by the other villagers, for only brief flashes will give an overall. But even this would not have saved them from the fire, but for their path, into which they all rushed, together with as they could with their drowning.

Then, then, hundreds of persons standing in the waters up to their shoulders, with the round chest senses of flame run along the banks but dare not venture to escape over the water in their direction, bellied in their thirst for victims.

Some of the more desperate of the villages on the steppes directly they saw the fire approaching set to work to burn large areas, and on these cases they were generally able to save their houses, their cattle, and so on. Besides this there is a great destruction of livestock, large and small.—Harper's Weekly.

JEREMIAH LAMBERT

Jeremiah Lambert, of Mt.Joy township, died at his late home along the Littlestown road at 4 o'clock on Friday two miles from the letter place, Friday morning, aged 81 years, 9 months and 22 days

He was a life-long resident of Adams County, and was highly esteemed something his entire life.

He is survived by a widow and three children, Charles Lambert, of Mt Joy Twp.; Archibald Lambert, of Flemmell Mill, and Mrs. Amanda Lambert, of Hanover.

The funeral will be held Sunday morning, Oct. 30 services at St Paul's Lutheran church Hanover. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery, that place.

BUCKS ARE SCARCE

From all counties there is a scarcity of bucks. In some cases in Pennsylvania and the State Game Commission is being urged by hunters and people interested in the preservation of deer to recommend to the Legislature a closed season for all deer for a number of years. The subject are being received at the office of the commission and most of the writers suggest that the killing of deer be stopped for from five to ten years.

MADE HAY BEFORE SNOW CAME

Frank Jacobs and George Bott, of Bott Bottle, Jacobs and Bott, of months in Idaho and Montana, arrived home last week and report a few inches of snow in the Silver State on the morning of their east East. The hay crops in that section have been engaged at making hay.

Miss Annie Miller, of York is spending a few days with friends in town.

Col. R. B. Cope and Calvin Gilbert are attending the meeting of the Loyal Legion in Philadelphia.

Miss Ginter has returned to Philadelphia after a visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T.T. Tate.

Harry L. Snyder and family, of Springs avenue, are visiting friends in Altoona.

Dr. Paul R. Sisler has been made a member of the faculty of the University of Pittsburgh where he will deliver lectures on "Surgery".

FLED BEFORE FLAMES

RUSSIAN PEASANTS SUFFERERS FROM PRAIRIE FIRE.

Huge Areas Devastated and Human Lives, as Well as Live Stock, Sacrificed—Whole Settlements Wiped Out.

Midsummer in Russia has been ushered in by a great epidemic of fires on the steppes.

The intense dryness of the season has proved disastrous in many places. One of the most dreadful fires that has occurred for many years ever accompanied a few days ago in the Province of Trevlan, on the south side of the Trad mountains, and in the northeast in the Caucasus. The three stripes vast areas of grass stretch to the horizon, raised only here and there by a few cherry and dwarf almond on the hillsides of the mountains, covered with the soil in clayey. Herds of cattle and horses graze on the plains.

It was early in the morning when bright clouds of smoke suddenly rose on from the steppe, a sure sign to the inhabitants that a fire was in progress. So appalling was the speed with which the fire rolled over the dry and yellow grass that the peasants had scarcely the moment necessary to escape just their own lives from destruction, The whole country speedily in all the villages until the tongues of fire, which came on nearer and nearer with resistless speed, appeared on the horizon.

Driven forward by the rushing wind sparks from the conflagration kindled in advance another fire, which in a short time enveloped 20,000 acres of standing grain. Scythe and scythe before the wind dashed on the wall of fire, waves. Enormous pillars of flame shot up into the air. The smoke was so dense that the sun, red and burning branches were buried up into the air and thrown far away.

Men and cattle were hard put to it to save themselves. Every local danger was of being scorched by the fiery breath; which was the dread of the fearless. Women and children who had fallen behind in the general rush dragged along by the other villagers, for only brief flashes will give an overall. But even this would not have saved them from the fire, but for their path, into which they all rushed, together with as they could with their drowning.

Then, then, hundreds of persons standing in the waters up to their shoulders, with the round chest senses of flame run along the banks but dare not venture to escape over the water in their direction, bellied in their thirst for victims.

Some of the more desperate of the villages on the steppes directly they saw the fire approaching set to work to burn large areas, and on these cases they were generally able to save their houses, their cattle, and so on. Besides this there is a great destruction of livestock, large and small.—Harper's Weekly.

RADIUM CAUSE OF CHANGES

Mineral Has Revolutionized Geologist's World and Invented of its Intensity of Heat.

Radium has revolutionized the geologist's world. It has made a discovery the supplies of heat furnished by internal elements in the earth were considered inexhaustible, and radium was thought to replace the heat which passes from the hot interior of the earth to the colder crust.

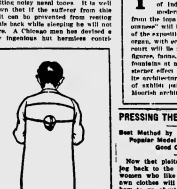
Now when the rapid heat exhibited is only possessed a certain amount of energy in the form of heat, and if it is continually spending this capital and not receiving any fresh heat, it is evident that the process cannot have been going on for more than a certain number of years or the earth would be colder than it is. Now on a hundred million, as estimated by Lord Kelvin, is the limit. The secret of radium in the earth is thought to be locked away about five grains to the ton, while in 100 miles, yet the amount of this element in the earth's crust would be sufficient to be great that it is more than enough to make the heat which flows from the inside to the outside of the earth.

The radium gives out so much heat that we do not quite know what to do with it, for if there were as much radium in the interior of the earth as there is in its crust the temperature would increase much more rapidly than it does as we descend below the earth's surface. Indeed the masses in the interior of the earth as far as we can judge are chemically similar to those in the earth's crust except that they are at a depth of more than 45 miles below the surface.

WAY TO PREVENT BAD HABIT

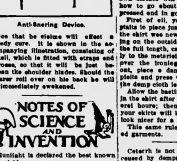
Self Arranged With Brass and Rubber Sleeves Shoulders Will Effectively Stop Snoring.

Snoring is undoubtedly a bad habit. Unfortunately, it is almost impossible for the person afflicted with this objectionable habit to know when he is snoring unless he happens to be awakened by his own snoring. Then, with the aid of the accompanying illustration, consisting of the device which is fitted with straps and harness, so that it will be just between the shoulder blades. Should the wearer roll over on his back he will be immediately awakened.



Anti-Snoring Device.

vance that he retires will effect a speedy cure. It is claimed that the accompanying illustration, consisting of the device which is fitted with straps and harness, so that it will be just between the shoulder blades. Should the wearer roll over on his back he will be immediately awakened.



Sentinel is declared the best known germicide.

Iron is the right to the universal rule of the air.

Automobile motor consumption yearly is 100,000 tons.

Electric cranes are now being made out of stamped sheet metal.

Finger prints for identification were used by the Chinese as long ago as the seventh century.

A mechanical worker has patented a pneumatic bed-bath, which permits a patient to be bathed without removal.

Only traveling salesmen there has been invented a valise with folding sides by which the capacity may be converted into a table.

To prevent electricity entering places there has been invented a staple attachment for electric wires with metal ear that it covers its opening.

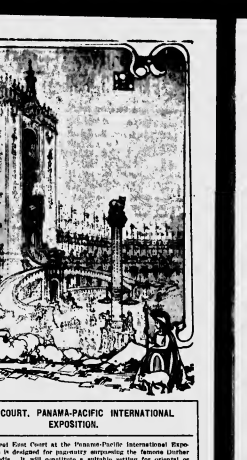
The average weight of a man's brain is three pounds and eight ounces, that of a woman two pounds and eleven ounces.

Of the earth's crust one-hundred of the solid earth, nine-tenths of water and one-tenth of atmosphere, and is the most abundant of all substances.

Mr. Edison has invented what is simple variation of the motion picture machine, an project drinking fountain, a sidewalks and other public places.

The Chinese have a method of abomination, an alloy which takes on a high polish and is not affected by acid, its invisibility will be accomplished by the mechanical qualities of the metal.

A method for stopping a leak in a vessel with compressed air, at the same time preventing injury to other parts of the vessel, has been successfully tested in the United States navy. An ordinary drinking fountain is to be equipped with cups in which the water bubbles over the edge as they are raised to the lips instead of requiring a person to lean over a stationary cup



EAST COURT, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

THE great East Court at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is designed for panoramic surprising the famous Darbar of India. It will constitute a veritable setting for the modern drama upon a colossal scale. From a huge sinuous or from the base of its encircling walls the visitor in this court of panoramas" will be enabled to witness the pageants that will be a feature of the exposition. The main feature of the court will consist of a great organ, with echo organs in the smaller towers; within the center of the court will be a basin containing groupings of classic statuary, dextrine figures, fauns, nymphs and other sculptures and a large drinking fountain at night. Tropical shrubs and flowers will contrast with the austere effect of the environing stately architecture. Over the entrance to the architecture the East Court, which will be among the main group of exhibit palaces, will resemble the oriental piece of the Spanish-Moorish architecture.

PRESSING THE PLAITED SKIRT

Best Method by Which This Most Popular Model May Be Kept in Good Condition.

Now that plaited skirts are creeping back to the realm of favor with women who like to attend to their own clothes will want to know just how to go about keeping them well pressed and in good condition.

First of all, you must baste the plaits in place just as they were when the skirt was new; run a line of basting in the middle edge of each plait on the full length, catching it down firmly to the material underneath. Lay it over the ironing board, wrong side out, place a damp cloth over the plaits and press with a hot iron until the damp cloth is dry.

Allow the basting threads to remain in the skirt after it is pressed for several hours; then remove them, and your skirts will keep their shape and look nicer for a long time.

The same rule applies to all plaited garments.

Catarrh is not rare. It is usually caused by dampness, exposure to a draughtna rain is a good starter for the disease. Keep in a generous natural effection of the air passages. Dr. Hathaway's Catarrh Jelly is not dried up and not caused by making cuts in the delicate membrane rough and catarrh. It is the latter kind of catarrh to get well without treatment, while the former grows inclined to progress to a fatal end.

AID TO ECONOMICAL WOMAN

Picks a Means of Giving to Gowns the Requisite Appearance of Freshness.

To the woman possessed of but slender means the purchase of a new dress comes as a veritable godsend, for by the kindly aid last year's gown is once brought up to date.

A fichu of lace net, flecked with emerald green or cerise, will quite transform even the dingiest of last year's dresses, whilst on an ivory satin bodice has seen its best days a fine deep ivory net will work marvels. And now that such wonderful draperies and laces are to be had so cheaply, or, some need be left out in the cold, be its color what it may. The best that the dolm is one of the wonders of the moment should not blind us to the old other grenadier fancy that shows the dolm may, in a sense, suit everyone, there are remains a certain type of women who, if she be wise, will wear here with a difference. Different figures require not only different lines, but widely different methods of draping.

A little gunny sacking over that poor cow's or calf's back, when it is shaken out every morning, will help out the feed surprisingly.

Flies can't batch without a sesame or damp pile to incubate in. Keep everything clean and there will be a few million less of these flies.

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

Roofs Put on 26 Years Ago

are as good as new, and have never needed repair—never leaked—never blown off. Just kept an occasional coat of paint.

Storm-proof Fire-proof Lightning-proof

Don't buy that roof for the new building, or reroof the old, until you have examined the Cortright Metal Shingles.

For Sale by T. J. Winebrenner, Gettysburg, Pa.
and D. B. Rock, Fairfield Pa

Gettysburg Monumental Works

NORTH OF P. & R. RAILROAD DEPOT.

We have a large stock of finished Granite Monuments and Tablets on hand for Fall work at very reasonable prices. Now is a good time to make a selection. We will not be able to duplicate this work at present prices.

L. H. Meals. H. S. Trostle.

COLLEGE CHURCH ELECTS PASTOR

CHANGE ROUTE OF NEW TROLLEY

GIRDLES OF MANY SHAPES

MADE HER A CONVERT

MONOTONY IS WHAT REPELS

SHOWS THE NEED OF ASSOCIATION

e. Walter E. Stabler, of Lebanon, Now Route of Trolley Line from Conewago to New Oxford is Now Announced. Extension of Two Miles.

Up-to-Date Girl May Employ Her Own Ideas for This Form of Adornment.

ONE WOMAN WILL IN THE FUTURE KEEP ACCOUNTS.

Up Against Regulations as to Their Clothing Question.

Activities of the Conservation Commission Are Explained

ALL FORCES ARE COMBINED

e. Walter E. Stabler, of Lebanon, Has Been Chosen Pastor by Unanimous Vote. His Many Friends in Gettysburg.

The route of the proposed extension of the line of the Hanover and Mcsnersville trolley road, through the terminus near Conewago Chapel, to New Oxford, has undergone a change.

Another survey was recently made and proceeded to the State Department, it was supported by Governor Brumbaugh and work on the new road may be commenced this fall.

The new route will be as follows: beginning at a point on private lands in Conewago township at the point of the hill which is on the west side of the airport railway of the Hanover & Mc-Sherrystown Railway Company, runs commercial and extending the route in a northwesterly direction approximately parallel to a point in Mount Rose, the old line has between Conewago Chapel and Mount Rose, it becomes more direct following public roads, with the exception of a short cut through the Edge House. Mt. Rock road to Hampton, and then on the road from Hampton to Mount Rock; the public road leading from the latter place to the Mount Rock school house, the said last mentioned point is the terminus of the line between the townships of Conewago and Oxford; the route is approximately 2 miles and 1,000 yards direct in a point on points lands unobstructed of the public roads leading to same, with telegraph lines and approximately 200 feet southeast of the public road.

From the road running through the Edge House to Mount Rock the line will run through the right of way from Mt. Moreno to Rose Chapel. The grade is to be one of the best in the county.

The new route service is largely

ARRANGE FOR CHAUTAUQUA

At a meeting held in Gettysburg on Friday evening plans were perfected with the Gettysburg Chautauqua and it was decided that they are to secure the talent for next year's assembly, arrangements were made to guarantee the finances and other features of the 1916 Chautauqua.

The committee made some concessions to the local management in view of the fact that the assembly this year was a failure and a financial loss of the risk in the guarantee of the season. It is customary for his agency to guarantee a certain amount of money as the usual cost of the talent.

It was agreed however that Mr. Bell and the same time allow the same second from the sale of tickets at the Chautauqua. The local management is to get the next $500 and Mr. Feuson the next $200. After the receipts shall reach $1,200, if that figure is reached, the receipts were over the financial and other features of the 1916 Chautauqua.

Mr. Bell has made some concessions to the local management in view of the fact that the assembly this year was a failure and a financial loss of the risk in the guarantee of the season. It is customary for his agency to guarantee a certain amount of money as the usual cost of the talent.

It was agreed however that Mr. Bell and the same time allow the same second from the sale of tickets at the Chautauqua. The local management is to get the next $500 and Mr. Feuson the next $200. After the receipts shall reach $1,200, if that figure is reached, the receipts were over the financial and other features of the 1916 Chautauqua.

The above arrangement is deemed very satisfactory in local interests, as coming as it does the Chautauqua and at the same time allowing some chance of meeting a time the present indebtedness.

The Chautauqua will be on right day affair and the best talent available in a crowded.

SERVICE BUILDING, FIRST STRUCTURE TO BE ERECTED BY THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

BUILDING

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

The following letters remain unclaimed at the Gettysburg post office:

Frank Armstrong, John Fox, Wilbur Bryan, J. W. Cashman, Mrs. Hartley, Sidney Qoeltin, Miss Lola Reese, Ronald Bloe, G. Stevens, Miss Tessie Wilson.

People calling for any of the above will please say they have been advertised. C. Wm Boales, postmaster.

ROBBERY AT EAST BERLIN

The jewelry store of Claude Lapham was robbed about 4 o'clock Saturday morning. The thief getting away with a number of gold filled watches, gold bracelets and rings. The loss is considerable. Entrance to the store was effected by cutting out a glass panel in the rear door. They are believed to be the same persons who robbed the proprietor at Red Lion.

FREED—PATTERSON

Miss Susanna Patterson and J. Horace Freed, of Hillin, were married at Mt. Joy Parsonage at 12.30 on Sunday afternoon by Rev. P. E. Sonkabaugh.

Dr. M. Conover preached in one of the Lutheran churches in Hanover on Sunday.

Misses Mary and Rose Trump, of Martinsburg, W. Va., are spending the week with relatives and friends in town.

Hon. Luther Sisker, of New Haven, Conn., has been chosen director the Bible Study oder of the Sons of Jacob. He has been a member of the Lutheran Theological Seminary faculty for the past seven years.

Dr. Stabler is known as one of the most able and eloquent preachers in the Lutheran Synod of Pennsylvania and the Lutheran church he has been very successful as a pastor and has endeared himself to the people. He was given the degree of doctor of divinity by Pennsylvania College in 1914.

At the congregational meeting at which the call extended a number of the members took part, expressing their pleasure that Dr. Stabler will there hope that he could be secured for College Church and that he will remain without a pastor for almost a year.

SURPRISE PARTY

On Tuesday evening a very pleasant birthday surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly, in honor of their daughter Bertha Kelly. It was her seventeenth birthday.

Those present were: Mr and Mrs. Edward Keller, Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. David Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Gutshall, Mr and Mrs. William Hoover, Misses Bertha Kelly, Hattie Gertz, Blanche Gutshall, Helen Allen, Edna Gutshall, Faith Bentley, Alice Robert, Helen Mc-Clellan, Alice Keller, Mary Kelly, Sara Mumford, Nannie McGlaughlin Sarah Keller, Mary Keller, Mary Hartman, Helen Hottinger, Alice Freed, Anna Hartman, Blanche Gutshall, Mary Keller, Blanche Keller, Margaret Kane, Cleo Hoover, Hennes Hartman, Clifford Kelly, Clarence Mertz, Dewey Sowers, Clarence Rotrock, and Lester Hoffman, Clair Gutshall, Robert Ralph Imbert, Holland Kane, Harry Hottinger, Lewis Kemp, Carl Martin Russell Keller, Paul Carbaugh, Dale Hottinger, Daniel Musselman, Ralph Keller, Sidney Buttner, Francis Beck, Paul Mumford, Thomas Mc-Cleary, Lawrence Kane, Allen Miller, John Buttner, Lawrence Buttner, Walter Wolf, Robert Buttner, Lawrence and Musselman, Leslie Keller, Arthur Catzbell, Clarence Hartman, Gilli Walter Harry Hottinger.

TO BE EMBROIDERY SEASON

Magnificence in Trimming Is Promised as a Feature of the Gowns for Fall Wear.

The embroideries on evening gowns and closke have been very magnificent this season and indications are that they will be still more so this winter. There is a feature that will help in the return to soft transparent fabrics, as well as those of the heavier weaves. A cucordion plaiting will be a feature in evening gowns and in transparent velvet evening wraps, but probably owing to the fact that it is a difficult thing to do well, it will be chiefly relegated to the services of those possessed of a lovely model and who can afford the still popular combination of black and gold in heavy embroidery.

The underskirt and top of the costume are composed of the gold and black marquisette, through which a gold thread is run. The upper part or dress is of black charmeuse, with panels of gold and black embroidery, the charmeuse drapery gives a slightly peculiar effect. Over the shoulders the embroidery and marquisette are drawn together in the back and form a plain tulle, to mitigate the severity of the top of the corsage, a lovely Spanish cloak is worn of black chiffon. This is lined with gold and black, the band of black velvet is wound round the collarless, with a small ornament at the left side.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

DRESSING A WINDOW.

It is sometimes difficult to arrange the furniture in the room that looks both comfortable and harmonious, and there are a few general principles in this direction. It is almost impossible to make a square room with a flat window look anything but ordinary, but when you have to buy windows, the artistic possibilities are many. The arrangement shown in this picture is both useful and artistic, whilst a similar finished effect is gained by the two floor-cushions in front.

Traveling Negligee.

The negligee for the traveling gown has a hood attached at the back, and this is made to match the gown. The sleeping-suit to a dressing room the hood may be drawn over the head for complete coiffure. This new dressing gown is made of dark colored mousseline and has the general lines of an ordinary dressing gown. It is lined throughout and turned back cuffs give extra warmth. Loops of ribbon fasten the sleeves and fastens neatly and securely with one fastening—and that a safety pin. Ignore which may have to be hastily donned.

Ornaments for the Hair.

Ornaments for the hair come in the fall, and a narrow bandeau of velvet is very popular. A Paris hair dresser has a narrow still band of blue velvet goes with colored jewels. Across the center of which springs up a pair of the feather of gold with the tips of the feather in natural colors, a very effective combination. Another band of velvet is sewn with small jewels and a white cagoy rises in the middle in a fashion that is both becoming and dignified—which by the bye there can be only many fashions of the moment.

Black and Sapphire.

A lovely afternoon gown would prove an immensely acquisition to the possessor of black and bright sapphire. A short skirt of black broadcloth, and a basque of

MAID HER A CONVERT

Mrs. Barker Had Always Ridiculed Her Friend Bobby Until She Learned a Lesson Showing the Value of System.

Mrs. Barker, fresh and dainty, dieting in a mood to welcome any pleasure that would relieve the monotony of her fashion irony at her flushed and weary friend.

"I hope," she observed, "that you don't propose to make a day by day reading a perfectly beautiful afternoon present the time to half way of the day the arms and formed of perpendicular lines of the skirt. It is always down with narrow velvet strong. Lastly of three is the velvet band for tuning under a fish-shaped straw finishing with a velvet rose.

Fashion's Fancies

A combination of black and gold is especially effective in the new velvet day dresses.

Some of the new shadow laces have their patterns outlined with a thread of metallic.

The most favored fabrics for little girls' dresses are soft cashmere and washable linen.

Many of the new ribbons are combinations of very prism with brocade effects.

Young girls are wearing the large sailor hats with scarfs to match the dress and dainty flowers.

Large silk sashes, banded by artistic panels are very much used by women while wearing.

Many of the new evening wraps combine fur, lace, chiffon and brocade in a most effective way.

Among the first fall hats small turns, soft droopy shapes.

HAIR ORNAMENT.

The present fashion for wearing ribbon in the hair affords scope for the display of ornaments of the sapphire, as the becoming arrangement shown in the accompanying illustration. The ribbon is draped smoothly in the usual way and then gathered into three bows on either side, and in the center of each bow is a small jeweled ornament. A fairly long bandeau is sewn underneath the ribbon, to support the back, and serves to keep the bow dress securely in its place.

Blogs is highly relished by both the sexes and is a fad with profit to those classes of animals.

Our advertising columns are interesting this week. Read them carefully. They fed something yo want.

Three tablespoonfuls of formalin to a pint of half water and half milk is the correct poison to set where flies congregate.

The silo should be placed where it will not interfere with the sunlight in setting the barn, or interfere with the convenience.

Supplement the short pastures with those green crops you planted last spring. Didn't do it? Too bad. Remember next time.

Wicked, Wicked.

"I suppose your wife was more than delighted at your raise of salary, wasn't she?" asked Jones of Brown.

"Why, she only told her pa, but she will be when she knows it," answered Brown.

"How is it that you haven't told her?"

"Well, I thought I would enjoy myself a couple of weeks first."—Judge.

Sapphire.

A lovely afternoon gown would prove an immensely acquisition to the possessor of black and bright sapphire. A short skirt of black broadcloth, and a basque of black

Activities of the Conservation Commission Are Explained

ALL FORCES ARE COMBINED

Flood Commission of Pittsburgh Informs the Public Why Concerted Effort Is Essential to Immediately Protect the Nation's Vitals Resources.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 24.—Many industries have been received by the Flood Com. desire of Pittsburgh as to the aims of the Water Conservation association of Pennsylvania which was formed during last July and with which the Flood Commission is co-operating. The statement most frequently asked was why such an organization was formed. In explanation the Flood Commission has made public the following statement:

To understand the reason for the formation of the Water Conservation Association of Pennsylvania it is necessary to go back in the history of conservation movements in the state, as prescribed by the constitution and legislation. The movement may be clustered under both clauses 5 and 16 of the Bureau Section of the Act of May 15, 1874, which were amended in 1887, 1893, 1903 and 1913 in relation to the powers and rights of each was also amended in 1913. The first clause says: shall have the right of eminent domain to all rivers of the Commonwealth, or any of them, so far as the improvement of the navigation thereof may require, and the abolition of a public duty to keep navigable any river. Any person prevented from performing that duty by the owner of land.

"It is further important to have a uniform and effective administrative machinery in this state for the public's interest in the conservation and future developments for profit, with these objects in mind, the following facts are desirous of preventing flood damage to rivers and navigation by the regulation of the flow of streams. Conservation in the broadest sense, is not about these great benefits, like the cycle of water which nature has given us are unknown here. In other words, the idea that nature's bounties have been to prevent exploitation, it has also, to some extent, prevented the use of them in a very wrong connection of the conservation movement. It must be remembered that conservation means wise use. It is the duty of the state to conservation of the state's resources is by securing the greatest benefit to the greatest number by the most efficient development.

"On account of a realization of the immense importance of the navigation and the resulted lack of local power in the State Water Conservation to properly conserve the waters of the state, other states have been secured by companies, the Pittsburgh Flood Commission feels that it was its duty to oppose the granting of charters to companies, and of many reservoirs in the western part of Pennsylvania upon which others were planned to be developed. At the same time the importance of the building of these reservoirs would not necessarily be opposed, but the control of flood flows and relief under proper supervision would be secured and at the same time diverse power which the reservoirs would be used for the best object.

"In view, however, of the lack of definite legislation granting sufficient powers to the Water Conservation Commission, which it should have, as well as broad powers to the Flood Commission of the public since these commissions the Flood Commission realized that it should take no share in the responsibility of attempting to prevent and abate floods without proper companies for their own purposes with the powers of the Flood Commission for the prevention of floods.

"The Flood Commission therefore expressed the hope that all such powers of those Water Conservation greater powers were granted the Water Supply Supply Commission, they could find it possible to incorporate in the bill a flood relief organization as would accomplish the results which the Flood Commission hopes benefits do feel.

"The Water Supply Commission did impose the restrictions recommended but now laws are needed and for the purpose of securing the exact laws of those the Water Conservation was organized

"Sadly lacking in the details of the new association the Flood Commission has agreed to co-operate in the meantime the Water Supply Commission has refused to act and now laws are all will mark the most beneficial and opportunity to deal with this question."

BULGARIANS TAKE TURKISH CITY

Capture Kirk-Kilisch and 5000 of the Enemy.

MANY KILLED IN FIGHTING

Wing Ferdinand's Army Takes Position After Several Days' Struggle and Opens Way to Adrianople.

London, Oct. 24.—A dispatch from Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, says that Kirk-Kilisch has been captured by the Bulgarian army, which has been fighting against the Turkish troops in the vicinity of Adrianople for several days.

The possession of this fortress opens the way to a Bulgarian advance upon Adrianople, as Kirk-Kilisch is regarded as the key to this great fortress, and is the headquarters of the Turkish Third Army Corps, commanded by Ali Riza Pasha.

The Turkish garrison at Kirk-Kilisch, consisting of 5000 men, surrendered to the Bulgarians. The Turkish generals were among those captured.

The fighting lasted five days, with heavy losses of life on both the Turkish and the Bulgarian sides. The capture of Adrianople is the next objective of the Bulgarians.

The Turkish garrison of Adrianople suffered heavy losses during the sortie from the northeastern quarter of the town. They left twelve cannon on the field when they retired.

The reports issued from the opposing sides as to the other battles were guess discrepancies, but the public is at least able to choose between the two reports.

As to the main event near Adrianople, British military officers who for many years have made a specialty of studying the Balkan military preparations have to the belief that the Turkish army has been holding the line between Adrianople and Kirk-Kilisch with a covering force estimated at about 70,000 men, and that the main Ottoman army is only just due on the scene. The public demand for the Turkish statement that something more definite will be known with the arrival of her main army at the front, when Turkey is expected to take the offensive.

Another fierce encounter is in progress around Kumanovo, on the way to Uskup, where both Servians and Turks claim the victory. The Turkish official report, on the one hand, says the Servians have been completely routed, while the Servian account says they have taken one part of the town and continue to make progress. It is possible that the reports refer to different parts of the area, which is extended one.

Other dispatches than the Turkish report show that the Servians have suffered severely. A mail was issued at Belgrade for all retired and reserve officers, as well as military employes, servants and employes, to join the Seventh Servian regiment, the crack corps of Montenegrin troops, at once. Many of these deaths are expressed in Belgrade newspapers. Hospitable activities in Belgrade will be able to issue certificates to the families of those who died in the hard-fighting troops.

There has also been some severe fighting in the Strumza Valley, near Demirhissar, in which both sides claim the victory. For the time being operations are slackened in the Novi Bazar district, where the Servians and Montenegrins are attempting to make a forward move. The capture of the town of Novibazar by the Greek troops advances this object considerably, but the troops, who have passed through a terrible battle, must be allowed some rest. The losses on both sides at Novibazar were heavy.

The Greeks also say the moment appear to be satisfied with the capture of the Turkish town of Servia, although their cavalry is pursuing the retiring Turks through the valley of Aliakmon and attempting to cut the Turkish lines of retreat.

Beat Is, It Upset a Lamp, Which Started the Fire.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 25.—A tortoise set fire to St. Mark's Episcopal church here. Considerable damage resulted, and twenty-five tortoises were killed.

Rev. John H. Houghton, rector of St. Marks, kept the twenty-five tortoises in a box in the guild room of the church. A lamp had been placed in the box to keep the tortoises warm. One of the tortoises knocked over the lamp, thus starting the fire.

TAFT MAKES PLEA FOR PROTECTION

Says Business Must Not Be "Football of Politics."

DEFENDS HIS STEEL VETO

In a Letter to Hardware Men at Shore the President Reasserts His Belief in Tariff Board.

Beach City, N. J., Oct. 25.—Setting forth his belief in a tariff board or commission and defending his veto of the steel tariff revision bill passed by Congress, President Taft set forth his views on the tariff in a letter read at the session here of the American Hardware Manufacturers' association and the National Hardware association.

The letter was addressed to C. H. Davis, president of the American association, and in it the president most ed the slogan that "we must not make legitimate business the football of politics." In his letter the president said:

"I am a firm believer in a tariff board of tariff commission. I do not contend that the tariff can be taken out of politics in the sense that it will never be made the subject of political controversy. But differ radically as to the economical wisdom of a protective tariff or a tariff for revenue only, and that must always be the subject of political discussion. But there is a method of taking the ascertainment of the facts from a irritated and heated party and means committee, which is necessarily hurried in its conclusions, necessarily lacking in the thorough, and temper which are essential to reach important conclusions.

"Probably any industries selected by the tariff need scientific and impartial conclusions more than those where a is represented in your convention, in my message of the 14 inst. submitted to the congress without my approval the bill to revise the metals schedule, I pointed out that in the schedule, iron and steel, my primary products are less than one-third in value of the subject matter covered by the schedule, 7 per cent and a table showing that the duties on the metals schedule are fifty-nine added industries of sufficient importance to justify especially careful consideration, study and report by the census bureau. I pointed out further the country and machine shop products, which are secondary products of the iron and steel industry, are made in more than 15,000 establishments, which, annually, with an invested capital of more than $1,500,000,000, with more than 1,000,000 wage earners employed and producing more than $2,000,000,000 in value of products annually.

"Every manufacturing capital and every workingman employed in the industry was directly affected by the bill, and I could not find in the discussion of the schedule that serious consideration had been given to the effect of this revision on this particular branch of the industry, and the same thing is true of more than two-thirds of the industries covered by the schedule.

"There was little logical relation between the reductions made by the bill in the schedule. For example, steam engines and machine tools in the present law are dutiable at 20 per cent, in this revision steam engines were reduced to 15 per cent, and the whole mechanical industry was put on the free list, without any reason whatever being given in the report of the ways and means committee in other cases for such action. The term machine tools has already been the subject of much litigation, and its scope should be clearly defined before the great variety of articles which it now seems to cover are placed on the free list.

"The expression of our foreign treaties would seem to demand that a transfer to the free list of such an enormous range of unidentified products as that the opening of the best market in the world to free and unrestricted competition should not be made without at the same time at least securing, as in the case now of specified agricultural exportants, the privilege of a like free entry into the markets of our competitors.

"I refer to these facts to bring home to the members of your association some of the dangers of ill-advised and illegal tinkering with business. I voted the bill which would have spelled ruin to many of your, because I was unwilling to approve legislation which wholly affected not only millions of workingmen and the families of and on them, but hundreds of millions of dollars worth of stocks of goods in the hands of dealers, as a

BECKER GUILTY OF FIRST DEGREE MURDER

The Jur,'s Verd ct Stuns the Defendant.

New York, Oct. 25.—Guilty of murder in the first degree was the verdict of Lieutenant Becker's jury for the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal.

The jury had been out exactly seven hours and fifty-seven minutes. Throughout the deliberations, and the frequency of its requests for exhibits, together with unmistakable signs of not agreement in the jury room, led the most of those who waited like at the criminal courts building to believe that there would be no agreement.

Becker was the last to learn of the verdict. He knew finally fell upon the defendant its terse was all the more crushing. Even the district attorney himself a few minutes before had said that there was a disagreement. Becker's lawyers had grown more confident as the hours sped. Becker himself, chatting pleasantly with his wife, his sister, his brothers and a former reporter, Frederick H. Hawley, who had been a friend in his behalf, was seemingly confident that there could be no answer from the jury room save "Not guilty."

The convicted man bore up under the shock with grimness and resolution. No less remarkable was the fortitude which the wife of the convicted man withstood the first impact of the worst of news.

TRY TO SHOOT GEN. MENOCAL

Attempt to Assassinate Cuba's Conservative Presidential Nominee.

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 25.—An attempt was made to assassinate General Menocal, Conservative nominee for president, as his special train was pulling in at Sabanilla.

Several shots were fired from rifles-ade Puerto Rico of Durym, not bare, was shocked to death by coming in contact with an electric light socket in the basement of his store. He had gone into the basement after an electric globe.

Political Advertising

LAFEAN WITHOUT PARTY BOUNDS

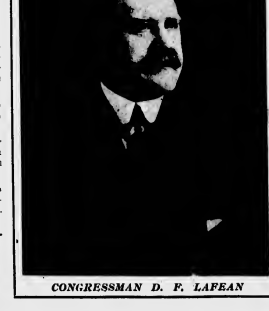
Faithful To His Trust

As the representative of this district in Congress he has never allowed any political associations to interfere with the Faithful performance of his duties to the people whether they be Democrats, Republicans or members of any other political organization or faction.

All have been given the same courteous treatment and consideration and all matters called to his attention have been promptly taken up and disposed of upon their merits.

The welfare of his people has been his only guide and he has always been found at the helm zealously guarding the best interest of the wage earner, mechanics, merchant, farmer and manufacturer.

He has proved his worth in protecting the American workingman and industry against the menace of foreign competition and opposed the dictates of his party and other colleagues to reap benefits for Wall Street and Administration.



CONGRESSMAN D. F. LAFEAN

Represents All The People

Mr. Lafean has never shirked his duty, and instead of waiting for opportunities to present themselves he has constantly himself in such a position of influence through his activity to enable him to secure needed government aid for his district which otherwise would not have been forthcoming. He has never hesitated to seek the assistance of his political opponents when the welfare of his constituents entered into consideration.

Always employed honorable methods to accomplish what he planned to do for his people and no charge has been successfully made that he has failed in a single instance. He has more than carried out his pledge to fearlessly and faithfully represent all the people of his district and the results of his service have been felt in every channel of activity in York and Adams counties.

Although given the initial support of the regular Republicans and Progressives at the spring primaries and endorsed on the Bull Moose party ticket, he appeals to the voters not as a Republican or a partisan in politics but as one who served them with equal fidelity and impartiality.

VOTE TO RETAIN HIM IN CONGRESS